34 STUDENT-ATHLETES SELECTED AS 2013 AWARD WINNERS

34 scholar-athletes representing schools from New Bedford to Haverhill and Barnstable to Hopkinton will be feted at the Jack Grinold Eastern Massachusetts Chapter's 38th Annual Scholar-Athlete Awards Banquet on Monday, May 13 at Lombardo's banquet facility in Randolph, Mass.

The honorees represent 30 different schools. Barnstable, Concord-Carlisle, North Attleboro and St. John's Prep (Danvers), each had two players selected.

In making the announcement of the award winners, selection committee chair Ed Schluntz noted the difficult decisions that had to be made by the committee.

"Our charge is to select 33 players," Schluntz said. "This year there was only a tenth of a point difference on our rating scale between the player ranked 33rd and 34th. There was a clear demarcation between numbers 34 and 35, so we decided to honor one more."

Schluntz, who is stepping down as chair of the committee after 38 years, added "This process seems to get more difficult every year. The quality of the nominations we receive is truly amazing."

MANSFIELD COACH REDDING HONORED WITH 2013 ED SCHLUNTZ AWARD

Mansfield High School Coach Mike Redding, who last October won his 200th game as head coach, has been named the winner of the 2013 Ed Schluntz Contributions to Amateur Football Award by the Jack Grinold Eastern Massachusetts Chapter of the National Football Foundation.

The Award completes an unprecedented trifecta for Redding who as a wide receiver at North Attleboro High School was an Eastern Massachusetts Chapter Scholar-Athlete and went on to star at Holy Cross where he was named a National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete.

"Mike Redding has been a tremendous success at everything he has ever attempted on the football field," Grinold Chapter Executive Director Roger Crosley said. "From his

LONG-TIME OFFICIAL ANGELO SCACCIA TO RECEIVE 2013 RON BURTON AWARD

Angelo Scaccia, a veteran high school and college football official, and the Dean of the Massachusetts State House of Representatives, has been selected as the 2012 winner of the Ron Burton Distinguished American Award from the Jack Grinold Eastern Massachusetts Chapter of the National Football Foundation.

"Angelo Scaccia is a remarkable man," Roger Crosley, Executive Director of the Chapter said. "His work in the Massachusetts State House of Representatives has spanned five decades and his time as an outstanding football official is equally as long. On top of that, he is disarmingly humble, so much so that when he learned of this award, he thought his officiating colleagues were playing a practical joke on him! Angelo is truly a 'Distinguished American'."

CHAPTER CLINIC AGAIN SETS RECORD FOR ATTENDANCE

Boston College Head Coach Steve Addazio addresses the clinic

Highlighted by a 20 minute introductory address by new Boston College head man Steve Addazio, the annual New Balance Jack Grinold Eastern Massachusetts Chapter Coaches Clinic was held on Saturday, March 2, in the Yawkey Building on the Boston College campus. A record crowd of 200 high school and college coaches attended.

"Having Coach Addazio speak and give his vision for Boston College football moving forward was a great thing for our attendees to hear," Clinic Chairman and Chapter First Vice-President Tom Lamb said. "Our partnership with B.C for the clinic has allowed us to be successful beyond our wildest dreams, and with the support of Coach Addazio Barry Gallup, and the entire B.C. staff, we feel even more positive about this going forward."

The clinic featured sessions on "B.C. Run Schemes and O-Line Techniques", "The Holy Cross Spread Offense", "The Yale Running Game", "B.C. Defensive Line Schemes and Techniques", "The UNH Fire Zone for Linebackers", and "Rushing the Passer".

"Our deepest gratitude goes out to Chapter member and benefactor Jim Davis and New Balance," Chapter President and Executive Director Roger Crosley said. "It is because of their support that we are able to continue to offer this clinic to our attendees free of charge."

PETERSON

America, Peterson was honored by the New England Football Conference with that league's Hal Chalmers Award as the senior scholar-athlete of the year. A member of Alpha Nu Sigma the national Honor Society for Nuclear Science and Engineering, Peterson is the recipient of MIT's Irving Kaplan Award for outstanding academic achievement by a junior in MIT Nuclear Science and Engineering.

Peterson is treasurer and an executive committee member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity at MIT and has volunteered for both the Massachusetts Special Olympics and at the Boston Medical Center. He is a member of the American Nuclear Society and the National Society of Collegiate Scholars.

On the playing field, Peterson was equally outstanding. A two time NEFC Boyd Division first-team all-star, Peterson was a two-year captain for the Engineers. His senior season he was named a USA College Football Northeast Regional All-Star.

Scaccia has officiated college football for the past 25 years. He has officiated two NCAA Division III national quarterfinal games, five Eastern College Athletic Conference bowl games, and an installment of "The Game", the Harvard-Yale rivalry. In 2012 he was awarded the "Red" Hill Award for excellence in officiating by the ECAC. Scaccia has also received the William Stewart Award by the Gridiron Club of Greater Boston as official of the year.

On the high school level, Scaccia has officiated numerous high school Super Bowls and for the past 13 years has worked the Boston Latin - Boston English game, the oldest high school football rivalry in America.

Scaccia was first elected to the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1973. He left briefly in 1978, but returned in 1981 and has been a fixture ever since. He has the longest tenure of any state representative, and as testament to his popularity, has often run unopposed in the Fourteenth Suffolk District.

Scaccia is a graduate of Boston Latin School where he is in that school's football hall of fame. He is a Boston College graduate and earned his law degree at Suffolk University.

Active in veteran's affairs, Scaccia served in the Marine Corps for four years. He currently serves as a member of the Joint Committee on Veterans and Federal Affairs, as well as on the Massachusetts Ways and Means Committee, and serves as Vice Chair of the Joint Committee on Mental Health and Substance Abuse.

He is a member of the American Legion, Boston Latin School Varsity Club, Council of State Government, Eastern College Football Association, Friends of the Hyde Park Library, Hyde Park Historical Society, Knights of Columbus, Lions International, and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

success as both a player and a student, to his ability to teach and coach the game to young men, Mike has consistently excelled in all facets of the sport."

Redding has led the Hornets to 204 victories in his career including six Eastern Mass. High School Super Bowl wins. His teams have qualified for the Super Bowl nine times.

Redding is 1979 graduate of North Attleboro High School, where he lettered in four sports during his career (football, basketball, baseball and track). He finished his high school football career with 132 receptions for 2,346 yards and 22 touchdowns. A three year all-state selection, following his senior season, Redding was selected as one of 10 scholar-athletes by the Eastern Mass Chapter.

Redding finished second all-time at Holy Cross in receptions with 113 and was one of 10 players nationwide to earn a National Football Foundation scholar-athlete award. He received his masters degree in education from Brown.

In 1988 he took the job of teaching social studies and coaching the Mansfield High School football team. In 1998-99 he started coaching Mansfield girls varsity basketball.

Redding has traveled the world, visiting Russia, Ireland, Mexico, Hawaii, the Caribbean, and nine European countries.
