DTD System Consulting

The DTD System provides Consulting Services with an expert in the areas of Configuration Management, Documentation Control and Technical Writing. The Consultant has been employed in the Semi-Conductor, Defense Technology, Medical Device, Computer Technology, Aerospace Manufacturing, Civil Government and Technical Publications industries with a CMII Certification from the Institute of Configuration Management

The Consultant will review the organization's existing methods and provide an assessment and a recommended path for an organizations documentation or Technical Writing requirements. This allows an organization to produce High Scale documentation and a Document Management System for maintaining them.
