

Local Attractions and things to do:

Depending on your interests, there are many attractions in Grafton, or close to Grafton, just minutes from our house. Year round, you can find restaurants, wineries, shops, the Sam Vadalabene Bike Trail, and zip lines. The drive down The Great River Road leads straight to us. The confluence of the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers and Pere Marquette State Park, no matter what time of year, the drive is always worth it! In the winter, many people come to Grafton for eagle watching and other birds, such as the pelicans and geese. In the spring time, the local scenery comes into bloom. The Loading Dock springs into action with their monthly flea markets, where you are sure to find just the right treasure you have or have not been looking for. Summer time offers a great time to spend the day at Raging Rivers Water Park, canoeing down the rivers, or horse back riding at the Pere Marquette Stables. Music in the Park has a great selection of various types of music for all music lovers. For those of you who enjoy time on the river, Grafton Harbor and/or a public launching ramp are just minutes away. Whether summer or autumn, local orchards are close by, if fresh peaches and apples are your thing. There is always a reason and a season to come to Grafton.
