The Eucharist and Holy Orders

“The intrinsic relationship between the Eucharist and the Sacrament of Holy Orders clearly emerges from Jesus’ own words in the Upper Room: ‘Do this in memory of me’ (Lk 22:19). On the night before he died, Jesus instituted the Eucharist and at the same time established the priesthood of the New Covenant. He is priest, victim and altar: the mediator between God the Father and his people (cf. Heb 5:5-10), the victim of atonement (cf. 1 Jn 2:2, 4:10) who offers himself on the altar of the Cross. In the service of the ordained bishop or priest, “it is Christ himself who is present to his Church as Head of his Body, Shepherd of his flock, High Priest of the redemptive sacrifice.” The priest also “acts ‘in the name of the whole Church, when presenting to God the prayer of the Church, and above all when offering the Eucharistic sacrifice.’” As a result, the priest “must continually work at being a sign pointing to Christ, a docile instrument in the Lord’s hands. ... The priesthood, as St. Augustine said, is a ‘duty of love,’ it is the office of the good shepherd, who offers his life for his sheep (cf. Jn 10:14-15).”

Deacons receive the laying on of hands “not for the priesthood but for service,” yet “share in Christ’s mission and grace in a special way,” according to their ancient order, and are sacramentally configured “to Christ, who made himself the ‘deacon’ or servant of all,” and hence to the essential significance of the Eucharist. They “assist the bishop and priests in the celebration of the divine mysteries, above all the Eucharist, in the distribution of Holy Communion,” baptize and facilitate celebration of the other sacraments, proclaim the Gospel and extend their sacramental ministry among the faithful by the various services of charity, including the burial of the dead.
