

Washington State Dahlia Society

Table Show

Please refer to Newsletter (when published) for all the details.

The Washington State Dahlia Society traditionally holds an annual “Table Show” (usually in August). This is a mini version of an actual dahlia show. It is a show for those blooms that weren’t quite ready for prime time on the most recent regular show but now are ready to show (“Monday blooms”). It is also a “teaching” show where you can learn exactly what judges are looking for.

In conjunction with the show, a “pot luck” dinner is enjoyed by everyone. All attendees should bring their favorite side dish.

Please. This function is not just for WSDS members...all dahlia lovers are welcome. In fact, all dahlia likers are welcome and even those who aren’t sure they like dahlias. If you plan to attend, please be considerate and contact the WSDS secretary (see contacts)...we need a head count.

“Fun” prizes are awarded for the “best” entry in various categories, with the ultimate prize of “Best in Show” for overall best bloom. Following is a list of previous winners:
