

Toby's adoption fee is $350.

Toby is an adorable young 8 year old Shih/Poo. He is neutered, up to date on vaccines and micro chipped, he also had a dental cleaning. He has proven to be house trained in his foster home, albeit a couple of accidents the first couple of days until he became accustomed to our routine and I learned his signals. He is very loving and likes to cuddle and hang around his humans all day. He has shown some separation anxiety when being left in the house, barking and becoming stressed, even when left with another dog. He does settle eventually, but is not recommended for an apt or condo, or a home close to another, as in duplex or townhouse. He loves the yard and is not a barker at neighbours walking by. He does however get upset and barks if his foster mom leaves the yard away from him. He is very quiet in the home with his humans. Toby may improve in time when he has been through some training for his need for self confidence.

Toby has a history of severe ear infections which has left him with some scar tissue covering the ear canal. They are clean and clear now, but will need Burrows lotion drops for his ears for life to help keep his ears clean and dry. His coat is soft and he shows no sign of any other health issues.

Toby's previous health history indicated some seizures, I have only seen one very small seizure his first night that lasted about 2 minutes. He was very excited and nervous in his first couple of hours here after a long transport and being in a shelter for some time. Our vet sees no physical issues to cause this problem. I feel in a good home and proper diet and care, he would be a wonderful addition to any family. Maybe someone who is home most of the day would be a good home for Toby. If you feel you could give Toby the right home to fit his needs, please apply or ask for info. Toby seems like he would be fine with children in the home and should be ok with cats as he is laid back. He is fine with other dogs.
