

As I was preparing to write this reflection, something jumped out at me that I had not noticed before. The psalm that we sing this week is the same one that we sing after we hear the "Creation Story" at the Easter Vigil. "Lord, send forth your Spirit, and renew the face of the earth." Coincidence, I wondered? Probably not.

For as long as there have been people, there has been a need for the Holy Spirit; a need that God has met throughout our history. In the Old Testament we hear stories of the Spirit at work in the life of Joseph in the book of Genesis, the lives of Moses, David, Solomon and many others. These prominent people in the story of our salvation were all connected to God in a way that allowed their greatest gifts to be used in the carrying out of God's plan. Does that mean that these people were perfect in how they lived and how they treated others and thus worthy to be used by God? Quite the contrary; they were a lot like the apostles of Jesus' time and a lot like you and I. They struggled with life at times and didn't always get it right with God or with community. Yet God saw in them something he could use; through all their weakness and human frailty, God looked at them and said: "I can work with that." God says the same thing to us today. All we are asked to do is be open to where God is calling us.

In the Second Reading Saint Paul tells us that "there are varieties of gifts, but the same Spirit" and, "to each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good." We may not be aware of it, but God can use us wherever we are in life to bring renewal to something or someone. For proof of this, just look to how our church began on that first Pentecost. God took those first disciples, who were not well educated; not well travelled; had a history of bailing out when times got tough and were now cowering in fear in a locked upper room, and used them to be the foundation of the world wide Christian church. God took all their fears and their past failings and transformed them into something positive and good through the Holy Spirit. What fears or past failings may be stopping us from leaving our rooms and bringing God's message to the world? Do we trust God enough to allow ourselves to be vulnerable and open to the criticism or judgment we may encounter if we accept this mission?

We are the means by which God will "renew the face of the earth". We need to have faith in the fact that God will continue to send the Holy Spirit, as promised, to be with us in our work to make disciples of all whom we meet. Easy? No. Doable? Absolutely.

Oh, almost forgot. Happy Birthday, Church!

I would like to express a heartfelt THANK YOU to all of you that helped make our Faith development program a success this past year.

To my facilitators, who faced the biggest challenges with the new program and format, to the music ministry who helped make each of our celebrations and sacraments so special, to my very special photographers who captured the joy and pride in the children's faces at each celebration and sacrament, to Fr. Laurence who provided us with his full support throughout the year and especially to all of the parents and children for participating so fully during our sessions.

Have a wonderful summer and hope to see you all again in the fall.

MONCTON New Brunswick

Saint Lawrence O'Toole Parish, Irishtown, New Brunswick

The definition of "Legacy" according to the dictionary is: "Something handed down or received from an ancestor or predecessor".

Saint Lawrence O'Toole Church in Irishtown has served the community for over 150 years. Although the building is old it is in good condition including a new steel roof added a few years ago, our adjoining cemetery well maintained and our attendance continues to flourish. However, just like home ownership there is always something that needs to be done or maintained, so to ensure we are able to continue to keep our building and cemetery in choice condition St. Lawrence O'Toole has established the "Legacy Fund".

This fund can be supported by choosing "Saint Lawrence O'Toole Legacy Fund" as the family choice for donations upon the passing of a loved one through Memorial donation cards which will be available at local funeral homes. In addition, our parish office will also have a supply of donation cards available for someone wishing to remember an anniversary or other occasion of a deceased loved one. Tax receipts will be issued and for further information please contact the parish office at 857-4223.
