To Whom It May Concern:

We opened our gun shop because we were tired of working in shops that weren't run the way we saw fit. We wanted to create an environment where anyone is welcome, and where people feel comfortable in our shop.

We had multiple sign company representatives stop by, because we still had the old shop name on the wall. However, nobody was willing to create a sign design that worked for us.

That was until we met with Isaac Duke from National Sign Corporation. Not only did he work with us on creating a sign design that conveyed the image we wanted, but he managed the whole project to keep it within our budget. He was professional in his communication with us, and was very responsive to our needs and concerns throughout the entire process. He also went the extra measure and helped us secure a rebate from our utility company because we used energy-efficient lighting. From his initial contact with us, through permitting, to the installation and final completion of the project, we are very happy with the service we received from National Sign.

The best part of the story is that the signage has done exactly what it was supposed to do. It has increased our store's on-site marketing presence, which has helped our sales! We highly recommend using National Sign Corporation for your signage needs.
