

Global Learning, Inc.

Global Learning, Inc., now in its 42nd year, is a non-profit educational organization whose goal is to sponsor and provide educational activities for educational professionals. Our workshops are funded through grants from major organizations throughout the world.

Supporters of the Summer Teacher Institute, iSTEAM (K-5) have included:

Fairleigh Dickinson University

Providing classroom space at the brand new School of Pharmacy
230 Park Avenue
Park Place Corporate Park
Florham Park, NJ 07932

Cornell University

Allowing use of ideas from their Master Summer Teachers Institute for turn-key training, and providing training resources.

Chatham Education Foundation

Providing grant funding.

C. R. Bard, Incorporated

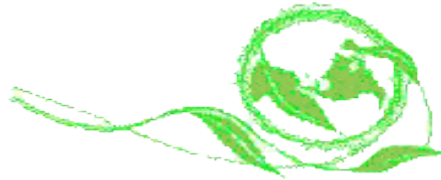

A generous grant from this major multinational pharmaceutical corporation allowed Global Learning, Inc. to grow and develop substantially in 2015.

Summer Teacher Institute is a series of classroom sessions and workshops where you become the student! Learn to collaborate, create, think critically, and innovate.

At this year's Summer Teaching Institute, STEM (K-5), participants will:

- Gain an understanding of, and further identify what iSTEAM looks like in the classroom
- Learn STEM concepts
- Learn how to integrate STEAM concepts and activities into instruction
- Take away integrated STEAM activities to kick off the school year
- Develop a confidence in teaching science, technology, engineering, and math
- Explore the changes NGSS brings

Teachers know the look. It's the look that appears on their students' faces when everything suddenly clicks and concepts make sense.

Global Learning, Inc. invites teachers throughout New Jersey to become wide-eyed students again in a series of workshops and hands-on sessions that focus on the integration of Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics in the elementary classroom.

The SUMMER TEACHING INSTITUTE, STEM (K-5)

introduces and explores STEM concepts against a background of educational best practices such as 21st Century Skills, and taking an environmental approach to learning. Teachers will learn to collaborate, create and innovate while thinking critically about instruction and learning.

Over the three days, teachers will see what iSTEAM looks like in the classroom, and how to effectively integrate subject areas. Participants will develop confidence in teaching iSTEAM subjects and will leave the Institute with integrated activities to use in their classrooms.
