

“They’re Hunting Us”

Soon after our first rapier battle at gulf wars, in the aftermath, I approached our newer fighters for a debrief. We spoke of the tactics that worked, the enemies we faced, how they felt, and the fun they had. Lochlainn inquired as to who those tabarded enemies were. She expressed concern in the fact they seemed to be hunting us. I explained that those tabarded folks were an elite fencing group from another kingdom. I explained they were hunting us, as we have multiple times proven to be their match. She mentioned this being her first war, and I brought up that she in fact took several of them off the field. She then asked why I didn't warn her only to be told that I didn't want her fighting scared. She laughed and then continued stabbing her way through tabarded folks all week.
