SELF-AUTHENTICATING

“To say that Scripture is self-authenticating is to assert that it possesses an inherent authority, independent of human endorsement, scholarly verification, or external evidence.

Self-authentication means that the Bible is self-attesting. It bears the hallmarks of God's voice-clarity, consistency, moral authority, and spiritual power-that distinguish it from other writings.

Denying the validity, and authenticity of the Bible, does not invalidate the Bible.

To invalidate the Bible as a self-authenticating writing the opposition must "prove" wherein it is corrupt: Fraud.

(For those who ask the question...statement mine, ret)

Can anyone challenge a self-authenticating document?

Yes, while self-authenticating documents are generally accepted as valid, someone can still challenge their authenticity. For example, if (emph. mine, ret), there is evidence that the document was forged or improperly created, it can be disputed in court.” LegalBrief AI

Hebrews 4:12

“For the word of God is living, and active, and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the heart.”
