

Leo Cruz
Investments Strategy
**&
Business Development

A true entrepreneur with over 10 years as a banking executive with Bank Atlantic followed by Chase Bank and finally with Bank of America, Leo Cruz achieved great success using his problem-solving skills and applied solutions helping many clients from various backgrounds and industries fund their projects, strategically invest their funds and reach their goals. Throughout all these years Leo realized his true passion was entrepreneurship and business development, after making the strategic decision to pursue his dream beyond his banking career, he started his own business helping many small businesses and clients on their needs relating to market strategy, business planning & development and corporate capital raises as well as project funding and investments using his financial industry knowledge and skills.

Leo is the founder and managing partner of Master Class Business Management, a company dedicated to helping business owners to find the best solution to reach their goals. While his primary role as partner and coach supporting these companies through the many challenges in the marketplace with a unique approach using his experience and network, currently his company has over $3,5MM in private funds under management in the real estate industry focused in the acquisition and renovation of distressed properties in Texas, Oklahoma and Florida with great track record and success.

Originally from Brazil, Leo is a resident of the United States since 1999, living in Florida with wife and daughter.