

Difficult

Notice the two old cement gate posts. A house must have been close by.

Imagine taking a break on this rock bench after a hard day working in the garden.

This is a great spot to watch some birds.

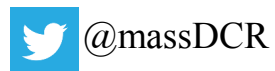

What is a “Selfie Scavenger Hunt?”

HOW TO: In this brochure, you will find 13 pictures (including the one on the front). The 13 pictures are broken up into 3 categories based on their difficulty: easy, moderate and difficult. Accompanying each picture, you will find a written clue. All 13 pictures were taken at Borderland State Park. Please be safe and use caution when taking your selfies!

GOAL: Find as many of these locations as you can at Borderland State Park. Once you find the location of each picture, take a selfie at that location. Can you get them all?

SHARE YOUR EXPERIENCE: After you find and take as many selfies as you can, share your selfies on Social Media. Use the following hashtag:
#BorderlandAdventure

In celebration with the Massachusetts State Park Systems 125th anniversary please share your selfies on Instagram or Twitter. Please tag the Massachusetts Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR) to share your great adventure and love for Borderland with ALL.

WINTER Selfie Scavenger Hunt

Difficult: Find one of the DCR Borderland Staff member and snap a selfie with them! Can you find them?

Easy

In the winter, there is no water flowing in this fountain.

Every farm needs a place to tie up a horse.

Find this beautiful farm house in the middle of the park.

Moderate

A great half way point along the Pond Walk Loop.

Shhhhhhh! No talking allowed on this trail.

Stairs to nowhere. Blanche named this pond after her Dad's nickname.

Moderate

This cedar bridge overlooking a little waterfall.

This is a nice Upper "Upper" view point!

A nice place to relax if you were the Amesess chauffer.
