Privacy Policy

By visiting this website to browse, read, or download information, your web browser automatically sends us (and we may retain) information such as the:

- Internet domain through which you access the Internet (e.g., yourServiceProvider.com if you use a commercial internet service provider, or yourSchool.edu if you use an Internet account from your school); internet protocol address of the computer you are using; the type of browser software and operating system you are using; the date and time you access this site; and the Internet address of the site from which you linked directly to this site.
- We will use this information as aggregate data to help maintain this site, e.g., to determine the number of visitors to different sections of the site, to ensure the site is working properly, and to help make my site more accessible and useful.
- We reserve the right to use this information to identify individuals to maintain the safety and security of myself and all sites registered to Nathan Postell IV.
- We reserve the right to retain all information provided for as long as the information is needed.
- Please note that electronic communication, particularly email, is not necessarily secure against interception.
- For site security purposes, this system employs software programs to monitor network traffic. Anyone using this system consents to the monitoring of their use by system or security personnel.
- Unauthorized use, tampering with or modification of this system—or its supporting hardware or software—may violate federal or other statutes and may subject the violator to criminal and civil penalties. In the event of unauthorized intrusion, all relevant information regarding possible violation of law will be provided to law enforcement officials.
