NEEDED * * GOOD LISTENERS!

Is the art of being a good listener slipping fastly from our "hurry-scurry" "push-button" generation? The world is so full of so many sounds, so many voices, all amplified it seems to catch our attention; televisions, radios, tape players of all descriptions, all with loud speakers with volume turned up demanding that we hear them. But I wonder, have we in all the confusion of noises and sounds become so adept at "tuning out" what we don't want to hear that we have also tuned out so many things that we should have given our full attention to.

Our youth are rebelling, turning to drugs, immorality, and what have you with the cry, "no one listens to me or has time for me". The main underlying complaint from the divorce courts of our day is "no communication — they quit listening to each other". The minister from behind the pulpit prays continually that "the people will hear as for time and eternity". The heart of the parent is daily concerned that their child will listen and heed the good advice of those who love him and have his welfare at heart. We all want to be heard. Who among us have not felt the uncomfortable feeling of trying to express ourselves to someone who although they were looking us straight in the eye and nodding now and then — were really not listening to us at all. I am fully aware of the times that my children and my husband have tuned me out; but in all fairness I am more concerned at the present with the times that I have tuned them out, maybe at a moment when they needed me the most. Oh, it wasn't intentional, I was just so preoccupied with my tasks and the important things I had to do at the time and I thought I could listen to them later when I wasn't so busy — but those times are seldom recaptured, and I found that when I could find time they were too involved in other things. The opportunity to listen and really hear on that matter was gone. How often do we go to the House of God with our minds so cluttered with the cares of life that we're unable to recall any of God's word that was delivered to us and we fail to take home any spiritual food for our souls, which was really the primary purpose of our attending the worship service.

What a ministry there is waiting for the one who has time to listen, for there are burdened souls all around us needing desperately to be heard. In our years of pastoring churches I have watched with amazement at my husband's success in ministering to the sick and troubled as he visits with people in their homes, the hospitals, on their jobs or wherever he may find opportunity to be with people. Oh, he doesn't have the answer to all their problems but he knows One who does. He makes them feel that he cares and helps them to understand that most of all God cares. He listens, he hears. God listens! God hears! The world is a wide open field to the one who really hears. Several places in the four Gospels Jesus said, "He that hath ears to hear, let him hear." Luke 8: 8 and others.

First of all our ears should be opened to the Word of God and to His Spirit and then to the cry of humanity all around us. It all goes back to the little thought we teach our children in children's church, "God first, Others second, and me last". Someone has said joy is

J — Jesus first

O — Others second

Y — You last

Will you take the challenge with me to be a good listener? May we be able to say sincerely I HEAR YOU, God, I HEAR YOU, family, neighbors, friends, and needy burdened soul. I REALLY HEAR YOU!! n r b

I HEAR YOU

How often, my Father, Thou dost speak to me, and I do not hear.

The words of the minister are Thy message to me, food for my soul, balm for my aching heart,

But I do not hear.

My mind is making a menu, designing a dress, or planning my work.

Thou dost speak to me through Thy messenger,

But I do not hear.

Thou dost speak to me through Thy Word, Thy Holy Bible

The words are black on white on the page,

I read them — verses, chapters, books —

Words of comfort to my soul, Words of strength for the day,

Answers for my questions, instructions for my daii living —

They are all there, all I need, all I search for;

I read Thy Word, O my Father,

But I do not hear.

My children and my husband speak to me,

But I do not hear.

Oh, I hear the words — the comments, the questions —

I nod, I answer —

But I do not hear, my heart does not hear,

My heart does not hear the unspoken questions, the needs that lie behind the words.

Is my daughter asking for reassurance of my love?

Is my son seeking more definite limits that give him security?

Is my husband asking me to trust him more in making decisions and not to fret?

My family speaks to me — but I do not hear.

My pupils speak to me,

Again and again, I listen, I nod, I answer,

But I do not hear.

Is Billy saying, "Love me, teacher, love me."

Is Sally really asking, "Help me not to be afraid. The world is so big and I am so very small."

Their voices, their faces, their actions speak to me,

But I do not hear.

Oh, my father, Oh, Thou who dost always hear, forgive me.

Give me, I beg Thee, a listening heart,

That I may be able to say to my pupils, to my family, and most of all to Thee,

I hear you, I really hear you!

BUS

I would like to give you a little information about the Apostolic Faith Bible College Bus. The board of the school along with five men from our movement, met in Oklahoma City, September 29, 1972, and decided to purchase a bus to furnish transportation for the college choir and any other movement functions. Since that time we have logged nearly 25,000 miles of service for our movement. It is scheduled for several trips this summer and has certainly been a blessing to our school.

We purchased the bus for $13,000 of which we borrowed $12,000. As of May 15, we have paid $6,500 of the original cost and with interest figured we now owe $6,881.23. There is no specific amount that must be paid each month, but we are certainly wanting to retire this note as soon as possible. If you have been blessed by the Bible College Choir or the Vibrations or in any other field in which the bus has served, and would like to help pay for it, we would be most happy.

May God bless you who have helped in this field of spreading the Gospel.

Ted Barker, Supt.

GREETINGS — FROM THE COLLEGE VIBRATIONS:

Its with grateful hearts, that we, the members of the College Vibrations say, "Thank You" to the many people who made our 1973 tour the great success we feel it was. Only by your prayers, financial support, and generous hospitality that we were able to complete this mission.

Our tour began February 14 and was completed May 16. Between these dates we were involved in 89 services. From these 89 services, we were privileged to minister to more than 5,000 people, not counting the T.V. audiences. Among these were our regular Bible School promotional services, our regular home church services in Baxter Springs, two different concerts that were city-wide meetings, and three different television programs.

It was also our privilege to record another long play stereo record by the College Vibrations entitled, "Old Camp Meeting Time", to be released around July 10th.

We give God the praise for several souls that were saved and one Sanctified while on this tour. I can only say that I hope our services were a blessing in every place we visited. This certainly was our goal.

May I say "thanks" again to everyone that had part in this mission. My special thanks to the dedicated young people who traveled with me. They are so very talented and certainly were used of the Spirit of the Lord. Thanks Joe, Carolyn, Shari, Janee', and Glowanda for your untiring efforts. May God bless you.

Greetings from the Apostolic Faith Bible College:

It hardly seems possible that summer has made another appearance so quickly and time for Singing School, Youth Camps, and Camp Meeting is already here. This makes me to know that Bible School is just around the corner.

I am very excited about the prospects for the coming fall semester. The possibilities for this year seem almost unlimited. Of course, we won't know until enrollment day for sure how many we will have, but it appears this could be the largest student body since 1951.

We are well into the preliminary mechanics of securing a faculty, preparing for added living quarters, locating a new dishwasher, installing some new printing equipment, and all the other jobs that go along with the starting of school. At the present time, our faculty is incompleated, but we are still working on that.

Let me say to you parents of teen-age students, "Do everything you can to give your boy or girl a good education." He or she can not have a good education without some spiritual and Bible training. You are responsible to them in this field even more than providing them with clothing and shelter. Remember we are accountable to God.

To you teen-agers, I want to give you a personal invitation to come to our school for 17 of the best weeks of your lives. If you will come with the intentions of studying, praying, Christian fellowship, and a barrel of fun, it will be the best 17 weeks of your lives.

May I employ every reader of the Report to support the school. There are three ways you can do this. You can give support Spiritually, Physically, and Financially, and certainly it takes all three.

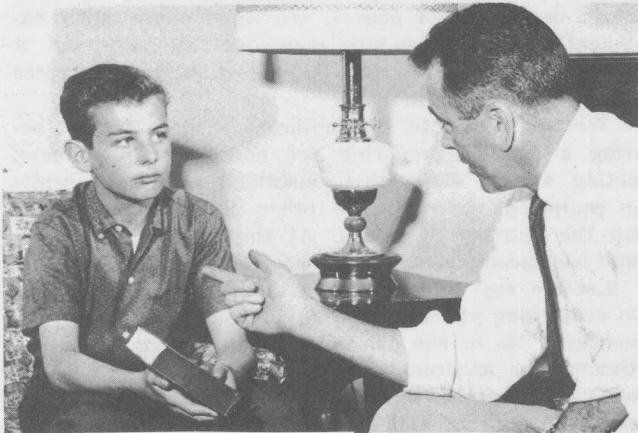

Enrollment day this year will be August 20 at 7:00 p. m. We are asking that no students arrive before the day of August 20. Any information you might like about the school, please feel free to contact my office and I'll do my best to supply you with that information.

Please pray for the school this year for this is our life-line. I am pleading for as many of you as can, please come visit the school and see the operation of it. I think that a visit to the school is the best advertising we can do. Work week at the Bible College will be August 6-11. Come if you can.

PRINCIPLES OF CHILD DISCIPLINE

By Harold F. Tuggy

A common defect in those who are first learning to drive an automobile is that they tend to oversteer. The car starts over to the left side of the road and the learner corrects its path by turning the wheel to the right, but too much. Then as the car heads for the right curb the new driver gets scared and pulls the wheel to the left, but again, too much.

Thus it is with many parents in disciplining their children. They are alternately too soft and too severe. The results that the child becomes confused, discouraged and sometimes even enraged because he has no consistent standard to go by.

The Apostle Paul admonishes us twice in his writings not to provoke our children to wrath (Eph. 6:4; Col. 3:21). This indicates that he had observed an abuse of discipline and there is nothing that will anger or discourage a child more than unfair and inconsistent discipline.

There are two aspects of discipline, the negative and the positive. Negative discipline says "No". It makes prohibitions and prescribes and executes punishments. Positive discipline directs the activities of the child in a constructive and educational way. It requires an intelligent study of the character, interests, abilities and needs of each child and is, therefore, the more difficult.

Many parents err in the use of negative discipline and make little or no effort toward positive discipline. Both are as necessary as are the positive and negative poles to an electric circuit. In this article we are considering the negative aspect.

My wife and I have hammered out the following rules in the forge of rearing children. We trust that they will be helpful to others.

Parents Must Be Agreed

This is a prime requirement for good discipline in the home. If there is a difference of opinion between the father and the mother they need to work it out privately and come to an agreement. Before the children they must present a united front. Here perhaps more than anywhere else in life "united we stand, divided we fall."

Bobby asks his mother if he can go out and play ball. Mother says, "No, you haven't cleaned up your room yet today." Then Bobby runs to his father as he comes home from the office, "Daddy, can I go out and play with the boys?" Daddy says, "Yes." Then mother sees Bobby out playing and calls, "Bobby, you come here this minute! What are you doing out there? Didn't I—?"

"But Daddy said I could."

We parents have all been tricked into this sort of situation. Children soon learn to play one parent against the other.

Now who was in the wrong? Obviously Bobby was. But we would also say that both parents were wrong. Why? This is not the first time that Bobby has played one against the other — not if he is big enough to play ball with the boys. He has done it many times before and has gotten away with it.

The father should take Bobby aside and explain to him that when one parent makes a decision he is not to run to the other parent to get his way before the parents have had an opportunity to discuss it. Bobby is big enough to understand. Then the next time Bobby plays one parent against the other a little of the "board of education applied to the seat of learning" will help to drive the lesson home.

Sometimes a third party in the home such as a grandparent will interfere in the discipline of a child. The grandparent ought to know better. But if he does not, it becomes the duty (and a very unpleasant duty it is) of one of the parents to tell the grandparents kindly and respectfully — but firmly, to keep out of such affairs.

In child training, let your "Yea be yea, and your nay, nay," and let both parents always say the same thing.

Attack Lying—Never Deceive Your Children

"The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked," the Lord tells us in the Book of Jeremiah. Deceitfulness is a part of the old nature that we receive by heredity. It shows itself in children amazingly soon after birth. A child does not have to learn to lie, it is part of his nature.

Lying is not only a word spoken with the intent to deceive, it is any action that is designed to deceive. Some parents allow their children to deceive them. They shut their eyes to little indications of underhandedness. Soon the child becomes an expert at the art of deception. Every evasive answer or excuse should be followed as a detective would follow a clue until the full truth is discovered.

One Christmas I and my two brothers received a little red wagon. At the time we were eight, six and four years old. Two blocks from where we lived a new house was being built. One day we picked up a few bricks and brought them home in our little red wagon. The few bricks that some little boys could carry in their little red wagon were of insignificant value to the contractor. But when Dad came home from work and saw the bricks, he saw something more; he saw the moral value that was very significant.

"Arthur! Harold! Paul! Where did you get those bricks?"

"We found them."

"Where did you find them? Was it down there where they are building that house?"

Suddenly we found something very interesting to look at on the floor. But we had to confess the truth. We were told to take the bricks back.

"But the men might see us taking them back!"

We thought that Dad would forget, but the next day when he came home from work he called me, "Harold, did you take those bricks back?"

"N-no, I-I forgot." (I might have invented a more original excuse.)

We realized that Dad was not going to forget. Thus it was that three small boys like three puppies with their tails between their legs, unloaded some bricks off of their little red wagon behind a brick pile on the corner. We have never forgotten that lesson.

But many parents would have accepted the first evasive answer, "We found them." It would be much less trouble. But NO — attack lying decisively.

How can we teach our children truthfulness if we lie? Did you ever send your child to answer the doorbell and tell him to say that his mother is not at home? Or tell your child that you were going over to the neighbors for a few minutes and that you would be right back, when in reality you were going to town? If so, do not be surprised when he comes up with an evasive answer, a weak excuse or a bold lie. Whatever you sow you will also reap.

Punishment in Proportion to the Offense

We have seen parents who would spank a child severely for breaking a dish, but would laugh to hear a swear word lisped by an infant tongue. To break a dish has no moral implications other than a minor act of carelessness, and usually not even that, it is merely an accident. A patient word of caution and instruction should be sufficient. But obscene speech has serious implications and should be dealt with immediately.

Chastise Decisively

Threats, nagging and little slaps do no good. If the offense is worthy of punishment, make it a punishment that the child will remember and will not want to receive again for a similar offense.

Our daughter once grabbed her older brother by the neck and began choking him to force him to give her something she wanted. Her mother gave her a hard spanking which our daughter never forgot. "How cruel" some would say. But it would have been much more cruel to let her continue that little trick until some day in a fit of anger she might have choked her brother to death. This offense demanded decisive punishment, and got it. She never attempted to choke her brother again.

Did this provoke her to wrath? No! She understood very well the justice of the punishment. A child does not resent a fair punishment.

Do Not Punish When You Are Angry

The child understands whether its father or mother punishes him out of anger or whether they discipline him justly for corrective reasons. If it is merely to vent the parent's anger, in Paul's language, it provokes the child to wrath. When the parent is angry, the chastisement is likely to be much more severe than it should be. Therefore, if you are angry, wait until your anger has passed; then call the child and explain the reason for the punishment, and then discipline calmly and deliberately.

Use a Variety of Correctives

There are children whom whipping does not correct. One little boy was promised a whipping if he did something. His answer was, "Then I'll laugh." And he did. But if he is denied his dessert or kept in the house when the other boys are out playing, it cuts him to the quick.

Our younger brother, Paul, was passing through the playing-with-fire stage. He would steal matches from the kitchen and build his little fires in the yard with paper and sticks and dry grass. Our parents whipped him repeatedly but to no avail. One day Mother found him building his fire right up against the house.

Finally Dad bought 12 dozen boxes of matches, the kind that had a wooden stick about 2½ inches long. Then he fixed a shield so that the wind would not spread the fire, and set Paul down to the fun of burning matches. At first it was lots of fun—but before long it became a task. Dad went off to work and left Mother in charge. Before long:

"Mama, I have lit enough matches."

"Oh, no, Paul, you just keep on lighting matches."

Soon Mother found him taking three, four, or five matches at a time to strike them.

"No, Paul, you must burn them one at a time, and let them burn clear down to the end."

By nine o'clock Paul was watching the matches burn through his tears. Mama phoned to see if she could stop the match-burning. (Note that both parents were together on this.) Father said for Paul to keep on. By ten o'clock the tears were putting out the fire. Another telephone call, and Dad ordered the burning stopped. Never again did Paul steal matches from the kitchen.

All that is needed is a bit of originality and imagination on the part of the parents to keep ahead of the children.

Correct Any Mistake You May Make

Since we parents are human, we sometimes make mistakes. When you find that you have done the wrong thing, made an arbitrary decision, punished the wrong child, or lost your temper, go to the child you have wronged and make it right. This is only fair. We should not think that because we are adults we have a right to violate our children's sense of justice and fairness. On the contrary, because their senses are delicate and tender and in their formative years we should take the greater care not to hurt or warp them. And by admitting it when we are wrong we will keep their confidence and respect.

Scrupulously Keep Your Promises

If you promise a child a spanking, spank him. If you promise him an ice cream cone, give it to him.

"Now, Jimmy, if you do that again I am going to spank you!" Jimmy does it again.

"All right Jimmy, I told you I was going to spank you if you did that again. Okay now you know, if you do it again I am going to beat you within an inch of your life."

Jimmy's mother has already lost the battle. Jimmy knows that not the third time nor the tenth time he does it will he get punished. It is all threats and no action. The mother's mistake is in not keeping her word and spanking Jimmy the first time he repeated his offense.

"Now, Johnny, you stay home with your sister and with Ginny, and when we come home we will bring you some candy." So Johnny's parents drove off to the nearby city for a shopping trip.

When Johnny heard the car turn the corner a couple of hours later he ran to the door calling, "Here comes Mama with my tandy, my tandy!"

His mother saw Johnny and heard his excited and happy expression, "Oh, Daddy, we forgot Johnny's candy. Don't stop the car, go on around the corner to the grocery store and buy Johnny's candy." It was unthinkable to disappoint Johnny. To him the candy represented his parents' word of honor.

John was three then. Now he is grown and married and has a little girl of his own. But he still has a deep respect and love for his parents. Why? That candy, and the same principle which his parents followed throughout the years.

Every child needs direction, correction and instruction, and above all he needs to have the security of a confidence in something bigger than himself. Parents who exercise firm, fair and loving discipline inspire this kind of confidence. By keeping their word, and by establishing and requiring observance to sound rules in the home, parents can provide the stability and source of confidence which is a fundamental need of the mind of the child.

"Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is well pleasing unto the Lord" (Col. 3:20).

"He that spareth his rod hateth his son: but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes" (Prov. 13:24).

If we apply the rod of correction according to these rules we will do it in a way that will be for the good of our children. With the Holy Spirit's guidance and working in our lives and the lives of our children we will rear children who will be a joy to us not only at the present time but also in the years to come.

CANYON, TEXAS

WEST TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY

To believe in God is to believe in miracles. Already in the few months of 1973 we have seen many miracles here at Faith Chapel.

While kneeling in prayer at the watch-night service in Amarillo, Texas, the Lord seemed to speak to me in an audible voice. He gave me the promise that 1973 was going to be the best year I had seen in His work thus far. He didn't wait long to get started.

In January our college students left on a ski trip, most of them lost and in need of spiritual help. We prayed with them before they left and then as Kathryn and I stepped off the bus and watched them leave, I silently asked the Lord to do His work in their hearts. That night as they arrived at their destination and had their first devotional service under the spirit-led leadership of Bro. and Sis. Harrol Waterbury, God began to work. At 1:30 in the night Doug Hibbs called to let his pastors know what was happening. Souls were being saved. What thrilling news to hear at such an hour in the night! That was only the beginning! When they returned the whole group awoke us at 2:30 a. m. to proclaim that all who left unsaved had found the Lord and had been filled with the Holy Spirit.

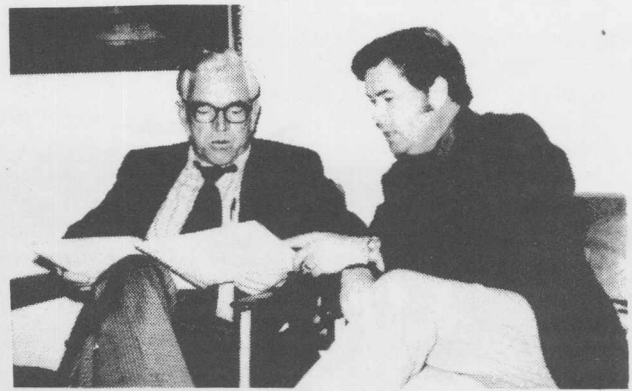

That was the start of a revival that has not stopped. Bro. Fox soon came for a revival and under his ministry the seed was planted in the hearts of new people. Since that revival we have seen a number of souls saved, committing their lives to God and being filled with the Holy Spirit. On the Sunday following the close of Bro. Fox's revival we baptized nine in water.

This is just a little of what is happening here at Canyon. There have been many times that God has manifested Himself in the healing of sick bodies. Believers have laid hands together and claimed that promise of the Father and people have received healing. We are praising the Lord for all His love and mercy to us and for what He is doing. These are not things that He is just doing here, but everywhere, where people are believing and claiming His work, its happening.

These are the last days and His promise of pouring out His Spirit on all flesh is coming true. Have you received since you believed? If not, why not now, God wants to save, sanctify and fill with His Holy Spirit. He wants to heal you and do many other things. Turn loose and let God bless you now.

Our family would like to say it has been a thrill to work here at Canyon the last several months. We love it here very much and have found the church to be willing workers for the Lord. These people love the Lord and are working for His soon return to earth. We all want to be ready.

Jack Cornell
Pastor — Faith Chapel

Bro. Marcus Adair and Bro. Jack Cornell

In 1958 we came to Canyon and visited Dr. James Cornette, President of West Texas State College, and shared with him our concern and burden for a Christian ministry for college youth at West Texas State College. In 1960 we moved to Canyon, Texas and purchased a lot at 2706 4th Avenue to begin the outreach programs that have progressed to these projects that are now being realized.

We have rejoiced each time as goals have been met and accomplished for the Lord's cause. Presently the Bible Education Building is almost complete. This facility will be another implement to share God's word and the guidance of His Spirit to university people.

In these classrooms God's word will be taught under the Holy Spirit's direction. In the counseling rooms, qualified counselors will share young people's problems in confidence and will offer prayer and guidance to help them find a relationship with God and a sense of direction. The Library will be a place to find books and literature that will enrich and enhance each young life with a better understanding of God's word through the study of ideals and experiences of others. The recreation area will offer a place for relaxing and recreating the physical and social life as they participate in activities with others.

In the Bible correspondence department the lamp and light of God's Book will be shared by mail with those that cannot attend Bible classes, yet desire to have a better understanding of the scriptures. The prayer chapel offers a convenient and quiet place for worship and prayer.

All these facilities make it possible for understanding and growth in spiritual life as well as the academic development of the individual. The purpose and dedication of these premises shall be for the mature development of the individual; his personality, abilities, and character; and the building of Christian attitudes and actions in the light of God's word.

Jesus is coming soon and we ask of you as Christ's ambassadors to share with us the great challenge and ministry to a lost and dying world. You people have by your finances and prayers made these things possible. In the near future we will, with you open these doors.

LOST PINES CAMP

SINGING SCHOOL, WARDA, TEXAS

Held

JUNE 4 - 14

(pictures of the camp are in the center fold of this issue)

Two buses loaded with 88 young people headed for Lost Pines Camp and the Singing School Monday, June 4 about 6 a. m. One was the Faith Student Center bus from Canyon, Texas, driven by Bro. Jack Cornell and the other was the Apostolic Faith Bible College bus from Baxter Springs, Kans., driven by Bro. Ted Barker. These two buses met quite unexpectedly about the time they stopped for supper and they arrived at the camp together about 7 p. m. The total enrollment for the camp was 138 students, so when 88 arrived at once it was something to behold.

There was lots of good help at the camp and the Lord blessed every effort in a wonderful way. There was such a sweet spirit in the altar services after the night service each night. The young people responded in a beautiful way to the invitation each evening and knelt weeping their way to salvation, sanctification and the Baptism of the Holy Spirit. Bro. Modrick did a wonderful job of talking to the kids on their own level about putting God first in their lives. Bro. Videt Polk started each evening's service with an hour of singing beginning at 7 p. m. followed by Bro. Modrick's sermon. Sis. Rita Scott played the piano for Bro. Polk and was in charge of the private and class piano and vocal lessons. Piano teachers that helped her were Ione Simmons, Kathryn Cornell and Naomi Busch. Vocal teachers helping Sis. Rita were Dona Barker, Jacque Spicer, and J. E. James. Jimmie Botter and a friend of his taught guitar lessons also. Bro. Polk was in charge of the music theory classes, Keith Barker and J. E. James assisted him. Joan Pletcher played the organ for the group singings. Bro. Ronnie Scott had a well organized athletic program which included volleyball, basketball, tetherball, ping pong and many other activities. He was assisted by Keith Barker. Ribbons were given out to both boys and girls for 1st, 2nd and 3rd places in each sport. A trophy was given to the boy and the girl with the highest total number of points. Patti Waterbury of Perryton, Texas won the girl's trophy and Brad Busch of Baxter Springs, Kansas won the boy's trophy.

Bro. and Sis. Lee Brock and Bro. and Sis. Lealand Grimmer were the cooks for the camp. Many, many young people and adults helped as kitchen help and counselors, also in many other capacities. Bro. and Sis. Harold Waterbury and Bro. and Sis. Buddy Stanberry were the committeemen in charge and they did a marvelous job. It was a good place to be.

4 - STATE YOUTH CAMP

Held

JUNE 17 - 23

Baxter Springs, Kansas

(We hope to have pictures of this camp in the next issue of the Report)

"This is the best camp we've ever had," is the statement we heard from several of the committeemen and the helpers of this year's camp. Things seemed to run so smoothly and the students were to be commended for being cooperative in every way. The 4-State Youth Camp began with enrollment Sunday, June 17, and closed Saturday, June 23. There were 108 students enrolled with several others coming in for the day's lessons and staying at home at night. One-hundred sixty-one was the total number at the camp including the camp personnel, which takes in the teachers, counselors, kitchen help and those that run the camp.

Bro. and Sis. Austin Sutton were in charge of the 11 o'clock rallies. Paula Buschman and Sammy Ames were in charge of the early morning rally and Ronnie Martin was in charge of the 5 o'clock evening rally. Donna Kinser and Paula Buschman had children's church each morning for those children of the camp personnel who were too young for the regular classes. Linda Capps had the job of dorm inspector. Sis. Dorothy Kinser led the Junior choir which sang each evening preceding the regular service. The Senior choir sang for the night service and special songs were by the campers. The messages at night were brought by ministers of the area. Sis. Sandra Forbes did an excellent job of preparing the meals with the assistance of several ladies from her church in Joplin and others as well. Bro. O. A. Busch did an outstanding job with his class for all teenagers at 9 each morning and his class for the teachers and counselors each evening at 5. Many victories were gained at the altar. It was a beautiful sight to see the altars filled with youth seeking God earnestly for their spiritual needs. Twenty-four were baptized in water on Friday afternoon. Bro. Paul Clanton was the chairman for this camp and was assisted by Bro. Ronnie Martin, Bro. Ollie Kinser, and Bro. O. A. Busch.

THE GREAT ARTIST

We've heard of our Lord as the Saviour of men
Who died on the old rugged tree.
Who gave up his glory with God on His Throne
To ransom a sinner like me.

He's the Sweet Rose of Sharon, the Bright Morning Star,
The Lily that blooms in the vale,
He's our Great Physician, Redeemer and Friend,
With a friendship that never shall fail.

In each of these great names a great picture I see,
But there's one more I'd like to portray.
It is that of an Artist with hand true and strong
That's painting our lives every day.

He takes for his canvas some life He has found,
Though dirty and stained it may be.
He washes it white in His own precious Blood,
From every sin stain made free.

The colors He'll use are not all of bright hue,
For sorrow oft darkens our way.
Then let us not doubt the Saviour's great love
When he turns from the gold to the gray.

Nor shrink not away when the Artist shall turn
To the dull hues that shadow our years,
For the fruit of our lives will be richer by far
If we've watered our prayers with our tears.

Sunshine alone just a desert will make
For clouds bring the showers of rain.
So barren indeed is the life of a man
Whose heart has never felt pain.

As the clouds in the sky catch the last rays of sun
Reflecting a beauty untold.
So the light of God's love 'gainst the trials of our lives,
Will change those dark clouds to bright gold.

Then faint not, but stand through your hour of trial
Till Angels shall come to your aid.
And when the Great Artist has said, "'Tis enough",
You'll be glad for the picture He's made.

last few days, when she was taken to the nursing home. Other survivors are nine nieces and nephews.

Mother Michener came to Christ at an early age, and in 1906 came into the Apostolic Faith Movement. For many years she labored at the side of her husband, he being one of the early ministers of the faith, working in the church, Sunday school work, and had a ministry to the sick. She was true to her God, and her conviction, of faith in God, trusting God till her last breath.

Funeral services were held in Bethel Church. Naomi Busch sang and furnished the music. Bro. O. A. Busch, assisted by Bro. Paul Clanton, ministered the Word.

Hardesty, Oklahoma

God's Spirit continues to deal with man and He will bless those who wait upon Him. We're certainly most grateful for His blessings upon our church. In recent weeks we've enjoyed the ministry of the Rev. and Mrs. Jacob Regier and the Rev. and Mrs. E. K. Cornell. God's anointing has been felt in all our services. A number of new, unsaved people have been attending. Due to the Optima Dam construction, Hardesty is experiencing a growth of new people in town. Won't you pray with us that we'll be able to reach those in this group that are honest-hearted people. They need God.

Sis. Lorraine Jones and Miss Luan Randles have just conducted our VBS Crusade which was very successful and a blessing to the youth of our church. They willingly accepted the job and did a wonderful job. Other ladies of the church assisted and we thank each one for their labors for the Lord.

At our annual business meeting, the church voted to brick the outside of the church. We hope to begin this work soon.

Howard Whiteley, Pastor

Pampa, Texas

We have just finished a revival with Bro. Kenny Priest, the evangelist, and his brother, Steve and his wife were the singers. Glenna Bensch from the Midway Church was the pianist. The messages were inspiring and made us realize how far short we are falling.

The Henshaw family has moved to Turpin, Okla. We hate to lose them, they were so much help and inspiration to all of us. Several of our group went to the Singing School in Warda, Texas.

Our pastor has been doing lots of visiting and inviting people to church. We really appreciate his faithful work. Mr. John Ray is out of the hospital now. Do remember our church in your prayers.

Kingman, Kansas

Rev. and Mrs. Carl Jelsovsky have resigned as pastors of the Kingman church but they will not be leaving till Camp Meeting time. They will be open for calls. They and the church desire your prayers about a pastor for the Kingman church. If interested please contact Mrs. John (Opal) Wimer, Murdock, Kans. 67111.

Enid, Oklahoma

God has really blessed in our services lately and He has miraculously undertaken for several who have had dangerous accidents and illnesses. We owe Him all the praise.

Shari Cook, Paula Buschman and Donna Kinser conducted our Vacation Bible School beginning May 28 through June 6. It was in the form of a Children's Crusade and the average attendance was about 40. Karen Theilen and Margie Doll were in charge of the handcrafts. June 6, Wednesday evening was the date of the closing exercises. This was preceded by a covered dish supper, both were enjoyed by all. Bro. and Sis. Carl Jelsovsky were with us in a service recently. We welcome visitors in our services at all times.

Taneyville, Missouri

We are enjoying the Report so much and may God bless you for all of your efforts put forth in this ministry.

To bring you up to date as to what is happening in the church I would like to report victory in the Lord's name and to His glory. For twenty-five years the church has tried to obtain the property next door to the church to build a parsonage but the owner would not sell to the church. Recently the church banned together in prayer that if it was God's will for us to have the land that He would put the idea in her mind and heart to sell it, and just a week or so after such prayer, the land became available and the church bought it. We are now beginning to enter a "cleaning up" time. There are two houses to be torn down and a lot of cleaning up to be done before we can start work on the parsonage. This has been such an uplift to the Christians in the church as this seemed to be a mountain that could not be removed, but through prayer and faith in God the land is ours! We desire the prayers of the people everywhere that this building project will be directed of God in every decision that has to be made.

We recently had a revival with Rev. M. D. Methvin, Calvin Claus, Paula Buschman and Barry Methvin. We are rejoicing over 20 souls being saved, the sick being healed and Christians being brought closer to God. Bro. Doc preached under the anointing of the Holy Spirit in every service. We want to praise God for all of His Blessings unto us. Through all of the bad weather that we had with the ice and snow our attendance was up and our church is growing in number, but the most important thing is that it is growing spiritually and we give God the glory because even though we water and plant, if God doesn't give the increase our work is in vain. It is hard to end this letter as there is so much that I would like to tell you about how God has been working in our lives, but I would never get through before I would run out of paper. My heart is full and overflowing with the blessings of God.

May God bless you and your family and your work for him.

Evangelistic Report

We have resigned as pastors of the Spring Valley, California church, and will be entering our ministry of Child Evangelism, Youth Revivals, and evangelistic work. We have the following dates open: June 6-13; June 18-22; June 29-July 2, in West Texas or New Mexico area only; August 8 and on.

We will be leaving California on May 26, and all mail should be sent to the following address for forwarding: Mr. and Mrs. Max Pennington, c/o E. R. Pennington, 2804 East Main St., Canon City, Colorado 81212.

We held a three day Children's Crusade, and helped in a two day Youth Retreat at the Las Vegas church. We saw many souls saved and sanctified, and one boy received the Baptism of the Holy Spirit. It was a pleasure to work with the Dearings, and their fine church.

Westminster, Colorado

Two of our people have been in the hospital recently for major surgery. Our pastor's wife being one, and I the other; we wish to thank everyone for their prayers, kind thoughts, and support. They were very deeply appreciated. The Lord was so good to us.

Since the last letter we have had one of our members filled with the Holy Ghost and one was sanctified. Then during our recent revival, in which our guests were Rev. and Mrs. Jacob Regier, one of our new people accepted the Lord. We were so happy to have Bro. and Sis. Regier with us for those two weeks. For the ones that didn't work, we held a Bible study and prayer meeting each morning at the church. Also during our revival we had the A.F.B.C. "College Vibration Singers" sing for us. They were truly a blessing. But the Spirit of the Lord is what really made our revival.

We are trying to add more activities for our youth. At Easter the children went to the Colonial Manor Rest Home and the Elegant Care Rest Home and put on a program for them there. It was truly enjoyed by all. We are so glad the Lord used us to provide enjoyment for these wonderful old people. Sis. Gail and Wanda Greene are working on programs for the children on Saturdays. There is also plans being made for more activities at the Rest Homes.

Perryton, Texas

The youth of Perryton, Texas are still feeling the wonderful effects of our Lay Witness Mission that was held in January. Witnesses from all denominations met together in the most wonderful way. As they came through the doors they left love that somehow rubbed off on everyone who attended our mission. I had been taught about God's love all my life, but I never really experienced it until the mission. About the time you think God has run out of love, he pours on some more. As a result of the mission, our youth group has a prayer and share group every Wednesday evening before church services that is really a blessing. The mission was the greatest thing that I have ever experienced. If you have a chance to attend a Lay Witness Mission don't pass it up. I think you'll agree it's great! We love all of you!

A youth retreat was held this Easter at Ceta Canyon near Canyon, Texas. The camp was beautiful and there were lots of things to do. Rene Heil held the informal services. The Lord met with us at both services. Part of our youth from Perryton went bringing back wonderful reports. It was a great way to spend Easter.

Arnett, Oklahoma

The Lord has been very good to us and we have been blessed with messages on the "Last Week of Suffering of Jesus."

With great happiness we are glad to report that we have now ordered new pews and a pulpit from L. L. Sams Church Furniture of Waco, Texas. We are anxiously awaiting their construction of this furniture.

The youth reported a nice time at their Plao Duro Canyon Retreat held April 20 and 21.

We are most elated to report that as of this date five youth have asked to be baptized. Baptismal services for these were held May 20.

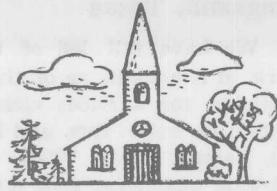

Valson Abraham from India was scheduled with us May 20 in the evening for a special service in presenting color slides and information about foreign missions.

Promotion Day was Sunday, May 20.

It is with regret we have accepted Reverend Heil's resignation as our pastor effective May 27, 1973, but want to wish him the very best for he and his family as he accepts The Bible Chair in West Texas University. He will be attending school this summer to complete his Masters Degree. We will miss him greatly but do wish for him the very best as he trains young people in the things of God as a teacher there.

Katy, Texas

Katy Apostolic Faith Church

Greetings from the Katy Apostolic Faith Church. The Lord has been so good to us and blessed the efforts put forth in His name. We had a good revival meeting held by Bro. M. D. Methvin in April, the Spirit of the Lord blessed and many were strengthened in the Lord.

The choirs from the Apostolic Bible College and West Texas State College have visited with us recently and we thank the Lord for the message they carry to the lost.

We are looking forward to a busy summer, starting with Youth Camp — Singing School (Ages 13 - ), Youth Camp (Ages 9 - 12), a Youth Crusade to be held the last of June, directed by Janet Stanberry and Rose Ann Lopez, then Camp Meeting the end of July, first of August.

Again I would like to say how much we enjoy the Apostolic Faith Report, and until we write again, May God Bless.

Beginning June 13th on the next five Wednesday nights the college-age Youth are having our services. Randy Scott and Karl Fullbright were the first two to have a service.

Modesto, California

We wanted to write a note and say that God has been very good to us. He's good every day — then some days are really special. We enjoyed the AFBC "College Vibration Singers" being in our church March 25th. Rev. Marcus Adair and Rev. Harrol Waterbury also were visitors the first of April. It's a pleasure to have Christian friends in our church and home. My mother, Mrs. Jasper Arnold, had emergency surgery for a bleeding ulcer on Friday, April 13th. God was very good and spared her. Our family was very thankful that she was here in Modesto so that we could care for her. She is at home now and the doctors think she is doing ok. Our family, especially mother, wants to thank everyone that knew about her illness and surgery for their prayers. Continue to pray for a speeding recovery for her, please.

1973 YOUTH RETREAT

We are happy to give a successful report for the 1973 Youth Retreat. Teens and workers from the Amarillo, Texas, Guymon, Oklahoma, and Laverne, Oklahoma area rallies met at the Ceta Canyon Camp for an overnight Youth Retreat on Good Friday. There were 98 enrolled.

The setting was perfect. Ceta Canyon is a lovely camp down in the canyon with lots of recreation area and places to explore. As the sun went down Friday evening, a cross of bright light shone from a hillside for everyone to see; it was breathtaking!

Rev. Rene Heil was in charge of the night service. He spoke on Communion and the Lord's Supper was offered. The Lord blessed in a mighty way.

Bro. Duane Methvin was in charge of the recreation and he did a great job. There never was a dull moment!

We all came home with a little sunburn, lots of sore muscles, but most of all rejoicing in God's greatness and His love.

Larry and Donna Stump

Big Spring, Texas

Greetings from West Texas. Things seem to be going quite well in this area. We enjoyed the college singers coming our way May 5th. They were a real inspiration and each song was sung with the anointing of the Holy Spirit.

I have spent a most beautiful year here and God has so richly blessed. However, I feel God wants me to change my line of work just a little. I have resigned as pastor here and am going into full time evangelistic work. I will be available for calls after August first. I desire an interest in your prayers in behalf of this work. Rev. and Mrs. E. K. Cornell were in charge of the church services the first part of April while our pastor, Bro. Ragan, conducted a revival in Joplin, Missouri. Their labors, during this time, were greatly appreciated.

Our Easter services were a blessing. On Palm Sunday a Communion service was conducted; then on Easter Sunday the Young People of the church presented a play, "Ye Shall Receive Power," which portrayed Christ's disciples before and after the crucifixion and resurrection of Christ.

A revival is being planned for the near future. We trust this will be a time of great blessings from God.

The church is also planning a D.V.B.S. Shari Cook and Carolyn Quesenbury will direct the school.

Our desire is, "Exalt ye the Lord our God and worship at his footstool; for he is holy." Psalms 99:5.

Dear Sister Naomi:

During the month of February I began to feel that the Lord was calling me to the mission field. Kathy had felt the same call for quite some time before. We began to pray together for God's direction.

After some time of praying together, we both felt we should go to Latin-America. We felt we should offer our services to Uncle Don in the work at Missions to Mexico until September, when the new term of school begins at the King's Way Missionary Institute in McAllen that Uncle Don and some other missionaries have begun.

We are looking forward to studying Spanish at K.W.M.I. After we graduate from language school we will help Uncle Don in the Boys Ranch and orphanage until Bible School at Baxter Springs opens.

We believe the Lord will direct us to the field of labor that He wants us to work in when we are better prepared for His service.

We certainly would appreciate your prayers for us, because we want to do God's work.

Yours for Souls,

Lubbock, Texas

Bro. Homer Coberly wrote and sent me a tract on the "10 Tribes" that came out in the Apostolic Faith Paper in July 1927. The following is an excerpt from his letter:

"We have had plenty of serious sickness, but thank God the Victory came the 16th (the letter is dated April 26, 1973) and Pearl has been improving ever since, still very weak, but thank God she is gaining daily, Praise the Lord. I set my crutches aside the 15th after being on them and in a wheelchair for six months. Walking outside every step is pain. I use the chair most of the time in the house. As ever in His love and service and respectfully,"

DEADLINE MOVED UP!

As of this issue, copy for the Report must be in the Editor's possession by the 15th (instead of the 20th) of the month preceding the date of the issue it's to be in.

Joplin, Missouri

We are so very thankful to the Lord for His manifold blessings. We were privileged to have Bro. Neil Ragan with us for revival for ten days from April 1st thru the 11th. Bro. Neil brought us some very inspiring and instructing sermons. God dealt with our hearts and drew us nearer unto Him. Also helping us in these services were Sis. Paula Buschman, Bro. Barry Methvin, and Bro. Calvin Klaus. We appreciate these young people and their work for the Lord. Bro. and Sis. Busch were with us for Sunday night service on the 14th.

The adult class of our Sunday School has taken a project of buying an organ for the church. Others have contributed to this as well. We were able to secure the organ in time for the revival and we have certainly enjoyed it. We feel that the organ has added to our services.

We extend an invitation to all to come and worship with us. Yours in Christ,

Ollie L. Kinser, Pastor

Las Vegas, Nevada

Greetings to everyone in the Lord. He is good to all of us. We are sorry to have missed sending in our report for last month. April 16 to 18 we had a Kid's Crusade here; and the 19 and 20 we had a Youth Retreat. The services were held by Bro. Max Pennington and his daughters, Angela and Pamela. We all enjoyed it so much, especially the girls and their "Muppets". Many children were saved and sanctified, and one boy was filled with the Holy Spirit. We are shortly beginning a program of fasting and prayer in the church. We're all burdened for the church, and we want to do something about it. We're praying that the Lord's will be done in everything. Praise the Lord!

Spring Valley, California

We at Spring Valley are seeking God's will to find a new pastor to come and lead us. Our present pastor, Bro. Max Pennington has turned in his resignation. He will be leaving the last of May for his Children's Crusades. It was my privilege to attend the Las Vegas Crusade. It was a thrill to see the talent God has given this family to win children for him. We are at the present time looking for a new location to move our church. It is the feeling of the church we need to move where more children can be within walking distance. God has promised to supply our every need and he has never failed! We are looking forward to a great year. Any minister interested in pastoring our church please contact: Mrs. Inez Flenniken, 9326 Herting Ct., Santee, Calif. 92071. Phone 714-449-5899.
