

What is CoWorking?

CoWorking is a style of work that involves a shared working environment with independent activity. It is a place where individuality prevails, brainstorming occurs, synergy explodes, ideas are bounced off others, and quiet progress ensues.

What is “The Exchange?”

The Exchange is Oskaloosa’s coworking opportunity where networking takes place along side those who are working independently on their own projects. The Exchange offers a solution to isolation which many self-employed, home-based, and independent business workers experience from time to time successfully providing a sense of community.

Where is “The Exchange?”

Oskaloosa co-workers currently gather at Smokey Row, sometimes in planned meetings, sometimes to work, sometimes to exchange ideas. CoWorkers invite conversation when the “Exchange” lamp is glowing.

Who can participate? How do I find out more?

Anyone can participate, and those wishing to find out more can visit “The Exchange Oskaloosa CoWorking” Facebook page or call 515.210.6247.
