All In The Family

Byrd's Leather has long been a landmark at the Daytona Flea & Farmer's Market. Their sprawling selection of leather goods occupies 14 booths on row F-South. Byrd's Leather got their start back in 1985 when Byrd and Kathy Travis took over a small leather operation from Kathy's parents. With Byrd's upholstery experience and a lot of hard work, the couple were able to build a customer service oriented business that now spans 4 generations. Children Steven and Becca became part of business operations as early as age 5, learning leather tooling and customer service by example. Now, with children of their own - they are parents to the next generation of leather masters.

Hand-made leather goods like custom belts, dog collars, gun holsters and specialized cases as well as one-of-a-kind alligator skin pieces, belt buckles, pins, patches, hats, wallets, motorcycle gear, jackets and purses are just a small example of what you'll find at Byrd's.

Youngest Apprentices

"Family is important and we consider our customers family" Byrd states, "If it breaks, we fix it for free. You've got to treat people right and offer service with a smile."

Stop by and experience the friendly atmosphere at Byrd's Leather this weekend. You might just find your new favorite store.
