

Yesterday there were 20 to 30 news media present for this POW/MIA National Chair of Honor dedication in Emancipation Hall, Capitol Visitor Center.

You would think there would be some newspaper coverage in the next day's Washington Post, Washington Times?

With Veterans Day almost here you would expect at least some mention of this dedication or the fact that over 82,000 American servicemen are "still missing". There was none. Shame on the Post and Times!!!
