Good Evening!

With Monday thru Friday part of a 5th week in August and the weekend the first two days of September – as well as Labor Day Weekend – this week's calendar is very light on meetings and events. So, this week, what little is on the calendar will be noticed in daily updates. Tonight's update includes the calendar for Monday and Tuesday.

Also, please note that the video link in the Weekend Update apparently didn't work. So, for those of you who may find the video on "Rain Garden Water Harvesting" of interest, that particular item has been reprinted at the end of this update with a text link to the video.

Have a great week and an enjoyable, safe Labor Day Weekend!
