

Journee along with the Greeneville Astros Fulfills Brother and Sister's Dreams at the Ball Park

Katherine Haney and Leonard Harmon are brother and sister. They also both suffer from severe COPD and are receiving hospice services but on August 25th all was well as they, along with their families spent the evening with the Greeneville Astros.

Katherine and Leonard were met by Journee volunteers and led into the conference room set up with food, drinks, and plenty of souvenirs. From there, Katherine, Leonard and their families were given a tour of the concourse including the suites and the press room by the Astros staff. After that, it was to the clubhouse and then to the dugout. The family had the opportunity to throw baseball with the Astros' players and sit in the dugout with them as well. Autographs followed with the team, before Leonard and Katherine threw out the first pitches of the night together. Katherine's grandchildren ran out onto the field with the team and were able to deliver the line-up cards and the game balls to the umpires. Katherine and Leonard finished their time on the field by high fiving the Astros players before the game. Once the game began, Katherine, Leonard and their families headed back to the conference room where dinner was provided. The family then enjoyed the game seated on the left side of home plate. It was our privilege to provide this opportunity to these families.
