To whom it may concern:

Ref: Craig Berube-Gray

It is my pleasure to recommend Craig Berube-Gray.

The Studios of Key West recently held a 3 month exhibition of Craig's stone sculptures, which was extremely popular with both locals and visitors alike.

In conjunction with the exhibition, Craig gave a number of interesting and stimulating lectures about how he came to be a stone sculptor, and demonstrating how he creates such sensuous and pleasing forms from a block of stone. Craig involved his audience in using his tools to actually create something from a block of stone – an excellent interactive and educational session for all involved. Craig is able to create artistic masterpieces out of any local resource he can find – an incredible talent as a Traditional Maine Artist.

Craig's ability to turn stone into a delightful creature, from reality or mythology, which brings happiness to all who view the finished result, is a truly artistic gift. TSKW benefited greatly from hosting Craig and his sculptures this past summer.

Yours truly,
