

John Speed built Farmington. His wife, Lucy Gilmer Fry, was granddaughter to Thomas Walker, who was guardian of Thomas Jefferson. Their son, Joshua Fry Speed was best friend of Abraham Lincoln. Another son, James Speed was Lincoln's Attorney General. Note: there was another James Speed who was Louisville mayor – but he was not related to this Speed family. Another son, William Pope Speed, had a son names James B. Speed who the J B Speed Art Museum was named for.

The Speed and Fry Genealogies

The children of John and Lucy Fry Speed born at Farmington and their spouses

This chart was developed by Farmington Historic Home.