

Carteret County Retired School Personnel
Minutes for February 11, 2020
11:30 a.m., Sanitary Restaurant

Call to Order was given by CCRSP Treasurer Meg Bradford. She explained that President Cathy Neagle was at a medical appointment at Duke. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Meg Bradford.

Jackie Wooten gave the devotion based upon “The Heart of the Warrior” by Kim Rice Smith. Jackie displayed a picture of an old home with the comment, “This house has much to say.” The aging of this home correlates with the aging of our physical and mental selves. Jackie summarized her comments on aging by reminding us that “even when things are falling apart, there is beauty, strength, and heart present.” She returned thanks for our food.

Members present for the meeting were Meg Bradford, Rita Mullins, Jackie Ramus, Bonnie Ferneau, Julia Thorn, Jeannie Potter, Becky Lail, Lucy Bond, Jackie Wooten, Sherrill Moraven, Claudia Beamon, Ardith Propst, George and Jane Burbella. Rosa Langston, Sherrill Moraven, and Benna Weires visited.

Meg Bradford welcomed our guests: Dr. Tracy Mancini, Vice-President of the Carteret Community College; Cole Chapman, a graduate of CCC and member of the Coast Guard Reserve and guest of Bonnie Ferneau; and Katie Statler who is running for a position on the Carteret County Board of Education.

Members of our group ordered lunch.

Our guest speaker was Dr. Tracy Mancini, Vice-president of the Carteret Community College. Dr. Mancini talked about all the improvements at CCC. One is a new welding program that was started this year and is being well received. The marine propulsion program continues to grow as well. She also shared about how wonderful it is to have MAST, the Marine and Science High School, on their campus and the opportunities for not just the high school students but for the college students as well. Dr. Mancini was also appreciative of the Carteret County Retired School Personnel Scholarship at CCC. She was very enthusiastic!

After our speaker, lunch was served.

Copies of the CCRSP Minutes for our December 12, 2019, meeting were available at the sign-in table. Jane Burbella moved to accept the minutes as printed, and George Burbella seconded that motion.

Our Financial Report was presented by Meg Bradford. The checking balance was $2,456.89. The Share Account totaled $57.89.

Funds were collected in the amount of $21.00 for our scholarship fund (Dollars for Scholars). Becky Lail won the door prize.
