Just wanted to send a quick and good update: My doctor-friend here in Maputo realized that the CT images she sent to the radiologist in America were not the images that had the contrast (dye) injected. So, we got a new disc with images and got those sent off of the radiologist. The detail was good enough that she feels I have nothing to be concerned about!!! Nothing cancer related!! Praise God!!

I will need to repeat the chest x-ray in a few weeks to make sure the “area of concern” is less or non-existent. So, guess the doctors are leaning towards this all being related to an infection in my lungs.

Thank you all so much for praying. It’s so great to know that, with just a short email, so many people are lifting me up in prayer! Love you guys!
