

Don't Just Sit There

☞ To sit up and take notice ☞

John Carroll Long's inimitable Up Art and Design Gallery is adorned by the nifty Don't Just Sit There colorful wooden sculpture of poised chairs on wheels. Don't be surprised if they have rolled away for the day since they seem to play musical chairs ever so often. Instead, consider yourself lucky if you catch sight of them because they are in fact as unique and intriguing as their sculptor. "I am bringing together every medium with which I have previously worked, in new and conceptually complex relationships moving from 2-D into 3-D to say what I need to say." Dare to take a quantum leap into the gallery and witness the genius combination that photography, illustration, and a very long and illustrious career as a syndicated cartoonist for the Chicago Tribune and Detroit News has to offer. John's cleverness, optimism, and ingenuity are astutely contagious.
