Shakespeare "RIFLED" FIBERGLAS ARROWS WITH PATENTED SPIRAL MARKINGS

Professional grade rifled arrows are matched in spine and weight

For those who want the ultimate in arrows, Shakespeare provides Professional Grade 'Rifled' arrows. Each arrow is guaranteed to be perfectly straight and uniform! Also, an exact match in size, weight and spine. Each individual arrow is marked with its spine weight. All are elegantly crested and precision-fletched. All arrows with points in this "Pro" series are for 28" draw. Six exactly matched arrows, skin-packed, per 6-pak. Specify spine weight and catalog number.

A27-T (Target), 30-35-40-45-50 spine weight, 6-pak .....	$20.00
A27-B (Broadhead adapter), 40-45-50-55-60 spine weight, 6-pak .....	$21.00
A27-NP (No point), 35-40-45-50-55-60 spine weight, 6-pak .....	$21.00

Target points included with all A27-NP & A20-NP arrows up to and including 35 pounds. Broadhead adapters included above 35 pounds.

Howard process construction makes "Rifled" Arrows, stronger, straighter, lighter and in balance—always!

Shakespeare uses all its fiber glass technical knowledge, resources and facilities to provide the archer with something better—and outstandingly different in arrows—a "RIFLED" arrow of specially-processed fiber glass. No other arrow on the market like it! Competing arrows of woven glass construction are prone to shatter (and are most difficult to balance accurately); but Shakespeare "RIFLED" arrows, made by our patented Howard Tubular Glass Process, retain true balance—always. Also, each arrow is individually marked with its correct spine weight (plus or minus 2½ lbs.) Nock-serts are one-piece construction, in break-resistant nylon. Shakespeare "RIFLED" arrows also pull out of the target easily and smoothly, unlike so many other arrows whose finish becomes tacky from friction heat. "RIFLED" arrows are stronger, retain their straightness, and are unaffected by weather conditions.

Shakespeare "RIFLED" arrows, including Professional Grade from 40-lb. draw weight and up, are made with camouflaged olive green shaft. (Color-blended for bowhunting!) "RIFLED" arrows in draw weights of 35 pounds and less have the famous Shakespeare white shaft with spiral markings. All arrows with points are for 28" draw; precision-fletched and attractively crested. Fletch on target points is 3½"; fletch on all others, 5". Specify catalog number and spine weight when ordering.

TESTED, USED AND PROVED . . . by recognized archery experts such as Dick Wilson (Shakespeare archery division head), Joe Foss, Norm Gallihugh, Andy Henning and Art Bloomer.

WHO KNOWS MORE about what should be expected of bows, arrows and related equipment than devoted archers? Who but such interested archers could be better qualified to initiate archery tackle developments, plan product improvements and consistently insist upon highest quality standards?

That's why Shakespeare's archery-wise personnel are constantly at work—in the field as well as in the factory—developing, improving, changing . . . adding, discarding, adapting, experimenting . . . all in their continuing effort to provide other archers with better tackle. In a sense, Shakespeare's archery people 'represent' the field of archery within the Company. This applies at the drawing board and workbench, as well as when bowstrings are drawn in private or public field work by skilled testers.

But all the skill, knowledge and findings of experimentation and field test would be meaningless without access to the modern production facilities and techniques made possible by Shakespeare. From design concept through extensive field-testing, sophisticated manufacturing to distribution and successful public use . . . it's the combination that counts. The combination of dedicated archery experts operating through one of America's oldest and most successful manufacturers of outdoor sports equipment.

No wonder Shakespeare, year after year, keeps a step ahead in product dependability, durability and design innovation.
