

The Tale of Charlettee

My name is Charlettee and I was born in New Jersey on April 27, 2016. My owners call me Charly and they say I'm a love bug.

My dad is Wicked Rich, a racehorse by Yes Its True who is a graded stakes winning millionaire. His mom, She's A Rich Girl, is by the Champion Sire, Affirmed. He's a Triple Crown Champion multimillionaire. Wow!

Moms Honor is my mom. She is by the graded stakes placed Hold That Tiger. Her mom is by the graded stakes winner, Salt Lake.

I don't remember much growing up. I learned how to be a racehorse and ran my first race on June 15, 2019. Someone cut my leg during the race and I finished second to last!

After that race, I went to a new barn. I was really scared and these people kept hugging and kissing me, telling me how great and beautiful I was. It was my new mom and dad, trainer and groom! I love them!

They fixed my leg, gave me a bath and some snacks and made sure I was OK before leaving so I could rest. I heard my mom and dad also own a mare by Yes Its True, Prosperity Avenue. I felt even better to know I'm with family.

The vet gave me a complete check-up. Just one or two minor issues to correct with proper food and vitamins but otherwise, I'm in great health! I even got a full spa day! I am so lucky my mom and dad found me!

I am right back to training and getting ready for my next race, maybe in a few weeks. I just hope I don't get hurt again!

Winning races is in my blood and I want to do my best so everyone can be proud of me, especially my mom and dad!

Well, that's all I can say about my life so far. I hope you might continue to follow my journey because I'm sure there will be plenty to add to my story.
