

D & J Enterprises – Company Owned Equipment

Company-Owned Equipment

D & J Enterprises owns an extensive inventory of specialized heavy equipment. As proof of this, an itemized list of this company-owned equipment, including model, serial numbers, etc., is included below. This list does not include the vast resource of equipment owned by others, which is also available for hire. Because D&J does, in fact, own a substantial amount of this equipment it places D & J in a unique position within the disaster response & civil engineering industry. While the company prides itself on its long-standing relationship with experienced debris removal/management subcontractors throughout the United States, and has the ability to activate them to nearby areas within hours of an event, the company is also capable of independent response within hours using its own resources. Because the company owns its own equipment and does not have to rely solely on subcontractors or others, it has the capability to independently mobilize and dispatch necessary equipment and personnel to affected areas anywhere within the Southeastern, Southwestern, Gulf, and Atlantic Coastal States immediately.

A partial summary of D & J Enterprises' company owned debris management equipment list includes the following:
