

John Heine

I grew up in the North Valley of Albuquerque, spending my free time riding bikes along ditch banks and playing in the Rio Grande. My love for nature and the outdoors always came through in art work during my studies at the University of New Mexico where I got a Bachelors of Fine Arts, concentrating in printmaking. Today I live in Albuquerque with my wife Emily and our menagerie of animals.