Educational Methodology

As Christian educators, we are charged with testing everything in education, taking that which is good, and discarding that which is not. In doing so, we strive to fill our students' minds with the good as opposed to the bad by being aware and alert of good educational practices, concepts, and methodologies that stand the test of time, strong and firm in truth. In other words, unlike the Israelites when they left 400 years of captivity in Egypt, we want to do our best to make sure we plunder the gold but not the golden calf. Therefore, the primary methodology of Sonlight Bay Christian Consortium, LLC is that of a classical foundation infused with the “plundered good” of today's educational tools while integrating technology within the parameters of a blended learning environment.
