Family of the Deceased

Lola and Donald Incarnati shared a rare romance for 73 years that built a strongly bonded family of children Cindy, Philip, and Kristen with many grandchildren and great grandchildren. For years, they grew this family with their love through big Italian homemade meals, deer hunting adventures, boating and fishing trips. Mom by dad's side frying fish out of large garbage cans full of smelt or perch depending on the season. Mom cooking homemade ravioli, passing the tradition down through generations sharing bits with all of us. There was a phrase that always rolled off all of our tongues when we left one another "We love you whole world."

Mom meant the whole world to all of us. We will miss her smile and the best German coffee cake ever! Lola was loved by so many and cared for by the best messengers God has. Philip Incarnati, her only son, has closely cared for her and dad during all of their years in Caseville. Thank you to all that spent time visiting with her and loving her over her late years.
