Who We Are

What is the mission of Christian Relief Services?

To work through partnerships and in collaboration with grassroots charitable organizations located in hard-hit communities that know what is most needed in the region that they serve. Christian Relief Services works to mobilize the vast resources of generous Americans to help those in need around the country and Africa by providing life-saving emergency assistance, as well as supporting programs that ultimately lead to self-sufficiency.

Why is Christian Relief Services a member of the Christian Relief Services Charities family of charities?

As a member of (a subordinate unit under an IRS-approved group exemption) Christian Relief Services Charities (CRSC), Christian Relief Services benefits in a number of ways from administrative and technical support from CRSC as a cost-effective model in the areas of overhead, accounting, human resources, information technology, legal counsel and governance. Included in the CRSC family of charities are 18 housing and charitable affiliates.

Established in 1985, Christian Relief Services joined the CRSC family of charities in 1998 and continues to work to provide aid to children and their families in communities that are often overlooked and stuck in a generational cycle of poverty.

How does the Christian Relief Services approach work to make a difference?

Many of our partners are located in impoverished communities and do not have the ability to raise funds or solicit contributions from people or businesses in their area. Christian Relief Services leverages donations from supportive individuals and businesses, which we then share with partnered organizations to meet the greatest need in the region they serve. It is critical that the services and programs are identified as the most crucial by the community itself, as there may be no other organization or effort apart from Christian Relief Services that provides such assistance. In this way, the services and support provided are assured to be pertinent, urgent, and aligned with the values and mission of Christian Relief Services. Through our local partnerships, we are able to manage resources effectively and make the greatest possible impact for those who need it the most.

“A life is not important except in the impact it has on other lives.” – Jackie Robinson

Message from the Spokespersons

Dear Friends and Supporters,

On behalf of the spokespersons for Christian Relief Services' projects Running Strong for American Indian Youth®, Bread and Water for Africa®, and Americans Helping Americans® in Appalachia, our humble thank you for your profound act of trust.

Because of your kindness and compassion, you enable our staff and partners to provide basic survival needs of food, clothing, safe shelter and medical and educational assistance to children living in the extreme injustices of poverty. We are here for them because you are here for us. Our work continuously adapts to meet the needs identified by the communities we serve, and so we are continuously grateful for your generous hearts, loyalty to our mission, and love for the people we serve.

We invite you to read about the many impactful programs and successes in this Report that would not be possible without the generous support of our many friends.

Running Strong for American Indian Youth® (Running Strong)

"For more than 30 years I wanted to give back to the Native American community that had raised me and helped me achieve my dream of winning a gold medal at the 1964 Olympics. I knew first-hand the great need of my people – not only for immediate relief in the long winter months with heat and warm clothes, and nutritious food for healthy minds and bodies, but for opportunities to grow self-sufficiency, leadership skills, and self-esteem, especially for Native youth. But there was no way I could have started on this path without your belief in me and willingness to embrace my goal as your own." - Billy Mills

To see first-hand the impact that Running Strong makes on the everyday lives of children and families living on the Indian reservations of South Dakota, we encourage you to spend an incredible week on our Annual Native American Reservations Tour in September. You will receive an intimate look at Lakota culture, learn about American history from a different perspective, witness some of the vast and open landscapes our country has to offer, experience Running Strong programs in action, and meet Running Strong National Spokesperson Billy Mills in person.

Together we are positively impacting the lives of Native American children and their families in a sustainable way. (See "Meeting Critical Needs of American Indians" on Page 9).

Bread and Water for Africa®

In the field, we sometimes hear that donors feel overwhelmed by the amount of need in Africa, that they think about giving up because they do not see how their small contribution could possibly make a difference. Let me assure you that the children living in the orphanages, attending the schools, and working on the farms funded by Bread and Water for Africa® are extremely grateful for the food, home, and opportunities provided through your compassionate support. They are young victims of civil war, disease, droughts, and other tragedies beyond their control, struggling to survive.

Many hands make light work, and contributions no matter how small aggregate into a powerful force for change in the lives of many. Knowing that there are people out in the world that care is like a warm embrace from far away, and encourages them to work towards their dreams. (See “Creating Positive Change in Africa” on Page 11).

Americans Helping Americans®

Americans Helping Americans In Appalachia® does just what its name implies. We give a hand up, not a hand out. We remember from our own lives the times we have needed just a little kindness and support to make it.

Your donations enable us to reach out to Americans in Appalachia and assist with housing rehabilitation, handicap access, heating, and food boxes for veterans, seniors, and other families in need. Through your community-minded generosity, we can continue our seasonal programs to assist impoverished children by providing school supplies and after-school mentoring programs during the academic year, holiday food and warm clothing in the winter, and lunch boxes and enrichment camps in the summer. (See “Building Up and Strengthening Our Fellow Americans” on Page 7).

Safe Places

Through our Safe Places Program, we provide transitional housing for victims of domestic violence and their children in Northern Virginia. Safe, affordable housing is available for up to two years after they have fled their abuser to a temporary shelter. Equally important, program clients are involved in weekly case management sessions and home visits. Clients work with Safe Places staff to focus on safety, budgeting, employment, and assistance with securing permanent housing. (See “Transitioning from Hopelessness to Power” on Page 6).

Once again, we thank you for enabling us to be “that gentle voice for good” and helping our fellow brothers and sisters in need.

God bless you!

Accountability

Christian Relief Services is widely recognized and certified as a highly efficient charity through:

The Better Business Bureau Wise Giving Alliance (BBB)

We've earned the right to display their charity seal of approval by fulfilling the Alliance's comprehensive standards of accountability (www.give.org). The Wise Giving standards go beyond what government regulators require. It entails rigorous scrutiny of our governance, effectiveness, finances, fundraising, and information materials.

America's Best Charities (ABC)

We are recognized by America's Best Charities as one of the best, and have earned their seal of approval (www.best-charities.org). Their standards include those required by the U.S. Government for inclusion in the Combined Federal Campaign, the most exclusive fund drive in the world. Fewer than 5% of all American charities meet these standards, and fewer still have earned their seal of approval.

USAID
FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

United States Agency for International Development (USAID)

Since 1992, Christian Relief Services has been proud to be partnered with the United States Agency for International Development (USAID), certified as a registered Private Voluntary Organization (PVO). With its origins in the Marshall Plan, USAID seeks to work with organizations making an effective, long-term difference in the lives of those suffering from disaster and endemic poverty — organizations like Christian Relief Services.

Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) #11367

We qualify for annual participation in the CFC, the world's largest and most successful annual workplace charity campaign (www.opm.gov/cfc). Charities must satisfy an extensive review of financial and governance practices to be accepted into the Campaign. Thank you to the hardworking federal and state employees, military personnel, and private sector workers for their generous support through their workplace giving campaigns.

Christian Charities USA

Christian Charities USA

Christian Relief Services is proud to be a member of the nonprofit federation, Christian Charities USA, which pre-screens and certifies high quality national charities serving people in need in America and across the world through a Christian call to action.

Transitioning from Hopelessness to Power

Because no one should have to choose between homelessness and abuse.

Safe Places, a project of Christian Relief Services, provides trauma informed social services and up to two years transitional housing to victims of domestic violence and their children after fleeing abuse. Our mission is to provide families with safety and housing while empowering them to live free of violence. All Safe Places' referrals come from community partners including local shelters, Victim Services, and other local Domestic Violence programs.

In addition to trauma informed social services, Safe Places staff provides support to participants throughout the year with financial assistance and in-kind needs, such as winter coats, backpacks filled with school supplies, holiday toys, diapers, and hygiene products.

Many of the families in our program were severely impacted by the global Covid-19 pandemic. Program participants received emergency support from Safe Places by providing assistance in securing medication, household supplies, transportation and rental assistance.

In Fiscal Year 2020, Safe Places offered 23 housing units scattered throughout Fairfax County, serving a total of 64 individuals, and providing 7,170 safe bed nights. Fiscal Year 2020 outcomes show that 90% of the families that graduated Safe Places program secured permanent housing.

Lastly, Safe Places saves lives. Safe Places continues to serve as one of the primary Domestic Violence transitional housing programs in Fairfax County. We believe that by removing barriers we empower our clients to live a life free of abuse, because no one should have to choose between homelessness.

Building Up and Strengthening Our Fellow Americans

Americans Helping Americans® in Appalachia provides assistance to people in hard-hit communities where unemployment rates are high and poverty is rampant, such as Beattyville, Kentucky, recently described by The New York Times as one of the “hardest” places to live in the country and one of the poorest towns in the United States. Americans Helping Americans® works with partners throughout Appalachia where people struggle every day to put food on the table, keep a roof over their heads, and keep the lights and heat on. By providing utility assistance programs, home rehabilitation, food boxes, school supplies, and the necessary winter clothing for children, Americans Helping Americans® is a hand up to the many families that want to break the generational poverty plaguing them.

Why Appalachia?

Communities in Appalachia have long had less opportunity than others in the United States with many having limited access to basic resources.

For many Americans who have never traveled to Appalachia, it is shocking to see the extreme poverty that continues to exist there today – over 60 years after President Johnson visited the region and declared the war on poverty. In fact, according to the Appalachian Regional Commission, in 2020 one-fifth of all the counties in Appalachia, or 81 out of 420, were considered “distressed” with another 119 listed as “at-risk.” Three of those distressed counties, Lee County, Kentucky; Hancock County, Tennessee; and McDowell

County, West Virginia are where Americans Helping Americans focuses much of its work through its long-time partners.

Why a Partnership Approach?

We are proud to establish long-term partnerships with community-based organizations to tackle the problems being faced in their service area. Our partners who work in the field every day can relay the most critical needs and the most desperate situations to us. They have the utmost knowledge of the needs and resources required to overcome them, and have outstanding networking capabilities within their communities. These partnerships also allow us to increase self-sufficiency, enabling communities to help themselves.

Often, we are asked why people do not seek opportunities outside of Appalachia, given the region’s harsh conditions of isolation and poverty. However, to many families in the region, Appalachia has been home for generations. We asked a partner in Tennessee the same question and he responded saying, “Appalachia is their home, where their roots are, where their family lives. They have a different reality than we do.” We at Christian Relief Services certainly understand the importance of “home” and work to do all we can to help them improve the quality of their life wherever they choose to live despite the hardships that come with that decision.

“That best portion of a good man’s life, his little, nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and of love.” – William Wordsworth

Meeting Critical Needs of Native Americans

For more than 30 years, Christian Relief Services has maintained a long-standing commitment to support grassroots efforts to meet the basic needs of communities throughout Indian Country. Many of our efforts focus on youth programs for impoverished reservations, such as the Pine Ridge and Cheyenne River Sioux Indian Reservations, throughout the United States. We offer opportunities and services that weren't often available.

Billy Mills (Oglala Lakota)

National Spokesperson for Running Strong for American Indian Youth®

Billy Mills, the only American to have ever won an Olympic gold medal in the 10,000-meter race, has dedicated his life to improving and enriching the lives of American Indian youth. Born and raised on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation and orphaned by age 12, Billy understands firsthand the serious and difficult problems facing too many Native Americans. Upon winning his gold medal, he returned to Pine Ridge and vowed to the elders that he would “give back” to honor those who helped him throughout his life. In 1986, Billy teamed up with Eugene Krizek, founder of Christian Relief Services, to found Running Strong for American Indian Youth®. Since then, Billy and Running Strong have strived to provide Native Americans with the tools they need to achieve self-sufficiency and live happy, healthy lives.

Creating Positive Change in Africa

Christian Relief Services has impacted tens of thousands of lives across Africa through its affiliate, Bread and Water for Africa. By sharing resources and partnering with grassroots community organizations in countries including Cameroon, Ethiopia, Kenya, Sierra Leone, Zambia, Chad, Malawi, Tanzania and Zimbabwe, we transform your gifts into tangible change for struggling children and hardworking families.

In Kenya, Zimbabwe and Zambia, we provide for the continent's most vulnerable – orphaned and abandoned children who would be on the streets fending for themselves without the Lewa Children's Home, Lerato Children's Home or Kabwata Orphanage and Transit Centre. Instead, they have regular meals, a roof over their head, an education, and most importantly, a loving place to call home. In Uganda, and Ethiopia, thousands of people have access to clean, safe drinking water thanks to supporters who funded a deep water well, which also serves a school and a clinic. In Cameroon, we worked with our partner there to build a clinic to serve those who would have no access to affordable health care.

Through our emphasis on health care and education, your support of Christian Relief Services does so much more than provide immediate aid. You are also supporting the foundation of a brighter tomorrow for these communities by building schools and ensuring that thousands of students can pay their school fees and purchase school uniforms.

In conclusion, we offer a heartfelt thank you to our dedicated partners doing truly heroic work in difficult conditions. We are grateful for the life-affirming efforts of the Faith Healing Development Organization in Sierra Leone's Rev. Frances Mambu; Angela Miyanda, director of the Kabwata Orphanage and Transit Centre in Zambia; Margaret Makambira, director of Shinga Development Trust in Zimbabwe; Esther Ndichafah, director of Home Services in Cameroon; Professor Augustin Sesay of Haramaya University in Ethiopia; and, of course, our wonderful international spokesperson Phyllis Keino, who founded and runs the Lewa Children's Home, Kipkeino Primary School and Baraka Farm in Kenya.

"Shinga Development Trust is very grateful and proud of the partnership over the years and would like to thank all Americans for supporting the organisation and our zeal to assist the less privileged in Zimbabwe."

- Margaret Makambira, Founder and Executive Director Shinga Development Trust, Zimbabwe
