

Jewish Family Services
of silicon valley

How You Can Help Refugees

Jewish Family Services has been deluged with people asking how they can help refugees. Here are some ways:

Become educated

Did you know: Over 700,000 refugees have resettled in the United States since 9/11. During that time, not a single one has carried out an act of terror.

Learn more about how JFS resettles 125-150 refugees in Silicon Valley, helps them get their first jobs in America, and teaches them to become responsible citizens. Tour our program and meet our staff. Contact Zoya Lazer: at zoyal@ifssv.org or (408) 357-7452.

- Go to our Refugee Support web page for more details on you can help
- Stay up-to-date on Facebook. Jewish Family Services is staying current in the refugee crisis at: <https://www.facebook.com/jewishfamilyservicessv/>

Volunteer to work with refugees

Tutor newcomers in English and help them conduct job searches. Mentor refugee families and help them acculturate to life in the United States. Contact Lori Cinnamon at loric@ifssv.org or (408) 357-7467.

- Tell JFS about job opportunities, and hire refugees at your business. Contact Chad Lama at chadl@ifssv.org at (408) 357-7459.

Donate cars, late model computers, and furniture in great condition

Contact Zoya Lazer at zoyal@ifssv.org or (408) 357-7452.

- For Vehicle donations, go to: <http://www.ifssv.org/vehicle-donations.html>
- For computer and household donations, go to: <http://www.ifssv.org/household-goods.html>

Donate to support local refugee resettlement

JFS' refugee resettlement program has been funded by HIAS, County of Santa Clara, Silicon Valley Community Foundation, United Way Silicon Valley and Western Digital Foundation. United Way closed its doors in June 2016, creating a $50,000 deficit. HIAS funding is currently frozen due to the Executive Order. Donate to JFS' Emergency Fund for Refugees.

Thank you for being a force of good in the world!