TOOLS
FOR Success

Every piece of research acknowledges and agrees that teachers work in isolation. They often do not work together to share best practices, analyze student work, problem solve, and build a sense of collaboration. Schools have put teachers together in groups and there never seems to be any movement or success. This training creates the why, the what and the HOW to successfully create professional learning communities that work.

Topics to be discussed:

- What is a professional learning community?
- What are the key elements of a Professional Learning Community?
- What are the roadblocks to implementing an effective Professional Learning Community?
- What are the three big ideas in creating a Professional Learning Community?
- How do we create an effective Professional Learning Community?
- How do we have the difficult conversations in order to have a successful Professional Learning Community?

Key Take a ways:

- A step by step process of how to have a successful Professional Learning Community.
- A comprehension of how Professional Learning Communities work and how to keep them working.
- A clear understanding of how to have the difficult conversation with colleagues in order to keep students in the forefront.
