

The pain on my right leg is gone.

About a year ago, I started having problems with a pinched nerve in my right leg after I overdid it on a long autumn hike. The problem seemed to go away by itself but came back with a vengeance in October of 2012. I kept hoping it would go away by itself again, but when my whole leg gave out and I fell over while walking in the Nature Park, I realized this wasn't going to happen.

I finally made an appointment with Dr. Beatty for a treatment a couple weeks after my fall and after having limped around for months. After the first treatment the pain was almost completely gone with only occasional twinges that reminded me to make another appointment. I went back for a few more treatments and I am now happy to report that I'm pain free.

Miserable Pain

I was in so much pain due to a fall a couple of years ago. I had work done by a massage therapist. I went a couple of times. There was some success, but not a lot. Then I took a fall in the shower and it just added to more pain. I was miserable and hurting. Then I saw the sign on the way to work "chiropractor". The house made me feel at home just looking at it. I decided a few days later to just come in because of the pain.

Dr. Jennifer was very compassionate and got me in right away. Her treatment was like a miracle to me. She has got that special touch. The relief from her treatment was immediate.

Two days prior to coming, I was at the medical center in serious pain due to my bowels being backed up. After her treatment I felt alive again and almost pain free. Then I came again and thanked her for such amazing work on me. I will continue my treatments and look forward to all my sessions with her. What a life change. Thank you so much for that healing touch Jennifer. It is such an amazing thing you coming into my life.
