HOMEWOOD CATTLE COMPANY

Welcome,

After much time waiting, working, and striving for excellence, all of us here at Homewood Cattle Company are proud to invite YOU to our third annual Aces of Autumn Bull Sale. We would be honored for you to join us on November 2nd, 2024 to celebrate our accomplishments as a first-generation cattle operation, and to experience our family's dedication to bringing you quality over quantity. We have spent the last several years incorporating new genetics such as WC Passport, LT Affinity, and TR Firewater into our third generation Full French herd that was purchased from Larry Atkinson in 2013. Research shows that superiority lies within the animal's genetics and after all, Sire selection determines half the genetics of your calves. This is something we take very seriously here at HCC. We cherish the lasting relationships that we have made within the industry and are hopeful to make many more. We are happy to provide a list of satisfied customers who are willing to share with you how our bulls have been able to improve their breeding programs. We enjoy hearing testimonies of exceptional calving ease and calves growing with untouchable vigor; meaning heavier weaning calves. We know that we cannot continue to live our dream without each and every one of you and the support that you have shown us along the way. In closing, We would like to take a moment to give all the credit and so much thanks to our Heavenly Father who continues to bless us immensely, stand beside us on the mountaintops, and carry us through the valleys.

The Ferrell Family

Understanding EPDs Expected Progeny Differences

AICA Definition of EPDs

Cattle evaluations use the term Expected Progeny Differences (EPD) to express genetic transmitting ability of a sire for the various traits listed. An EPD is a prediction of how future progeny of a sire are expected to perform in a particular trait relative to other sires in the analysis. The key word is “difference”. The EPD itself does not imply “good” or “bad” performance. But rather, the EPD gives a prediction of the average difference to expect in the performance of a sire’s progeny relative to the other sires in the same analysis. The EPD for a given trait on each animal in the analysis is compared to every other animal in the analysis. The EPD is reported as a plus or minus value in the unit which the trait is measured.
