

Captain is a five to six year old red longhair dachshund. He came from a hoarding situation where there were too many dogs and none of their needs were being met. Due to neglect, Captain and the other dogs did not get the medical care they needed. Captain was born with an eye condition called lens luxation that was not diagnosed and now he is waiting to receive surgery because the lens in his right eye has become completely detached. Captain needs surgery to save his eye. The rest of his eye is healthy and Captain should not lose his sight or his eye because his humans let him down. When Captain has completed his needed vet care, he will be looking for his forever family who will always take care of him and never let him down again. Captain is a very sweet boy who gets along with other dogs and is good with children. Cats are unknown. He can sleep in a crate, but prefers the big bed with his humans. He uses the doggie door and does well with his house training when kept on a regular schedule. Captain walks on a leash and enjoys riding in the car. He does not play with toys or other dogs but instead prefers the company of his human. He will happily lay near you or on your lap. Captain will be a great addition to a family that is able to provide the ongoing vet care he will require eye drops for the rest of his life and his left eye will need surgery in the future too.
