

Drama Teacher- Dorayne Breedlove

Dorayne Breedlove is a gifted storyteller with a background in early childhood education and the creative arts. Growing up in a military family, having traveled the world, and having parents who read stories to her and her siblings every night, Dorayne grew to love many cultures, stories, and the arts.

Her training as a teacher at the Living Ethics School prepared her as a teacher of the heart and mind with a heart-centered approach to education. Her enlightened programs are fun, interactive engaging and educational.
