CHEYENNE - Wyoming businesses from across the state will receive awards for their entrepreneurial spirit at the annual Bravo! Entrepreneur Awards ceremony at 7 p.m. on Monday, at Little America in Cheyenne.

A Lifetime Achievement Award will go to the True family of Casper for their contributions to the state and business community. Today the True companies include some 20 affiliated operations, most related to the core oil and gas business.

Heath Van Eaton will receive the Emerging Entrepreneur Award. Van Eaton's company, Heartland BioComposites, will use wheat straw and recycled plastic to form a board that is far stronger than wood. A new factory is under construction in Torrington.

The Governor's Award for Economic Development will go to the Wyoming Cooperative Recruiting Effort. The award recognizes businesses, organizations, communities or individuals that contribute to significant economic growth in Wyoming. This informal alliance has worked to recruit workers to Wyoming.

EMIT Water Discharge Technologies LLC, of Sheridan, will receive the Innovation Quotient (IQ) Award for developing an innovative product or service. The company manufactures and operates skid-mounted water treatment facilities for water discharged from CBM wells.

The following companies were selected for being Bravo! entrepreneurs in their region of Wyoming:

East Central Region: Timothy W. Renz, Richard Johnson and Scott Soulek, of Emissary Pharmacy and Infusion in Casper.

Northeast Region: James S. Neiman, Neiman Enterprises, of Hulett.

Northwest Region: Ted Blair, of Blair Hotels in Cody.

Southeast Region: Keith Richardson, Sierra Trading Post in Cheyenne.

Southwest Region: Randy Hruska, Green River Ace Hardware in Green River.

West Central Region: Chuck Guschewsky, Fremont Motors in Lander.

The annual awards are sponsored by the Wyoming Business Report in conjunction with the Wyoming Business Council, the Wyoming Chamber of Commerce Executives and the Wyoming Economic Development Association.
