Was There a Troy Cop Who Knew Shante?

Theory of Cop Slave Psychology in Murder

Anyone who has ever grown up in any type of ghetto knows that many cops are corrupt and serve the upper class by abusing the poor. The working and middle class who get respect in the community usually do not see this. Those of us who did not succeed in the social strata often see things no one else does.

The quadruple homicide in Troy, NY in December of 2017, if based in a developing theory, could have been a murder of the poor by a middle class—a racist-driven murder by white LaVey disciples. The victims were all black, two women and two children. Although two black men were held in custody and are currently being tried, I saw part of that hearing at the Rensselaer County Courthouse. The cops probably just nabbed up those two suspects to make it look good to Troy, as if they were doing their job. The real sacrificial murderers probably got away. This is, however, still based in theory.

Anton LaVey (bottom right), author of the Satanic Bible, was the perfect Judas for the Gambino: his philosophies entail a righteousness equivalent to that of Christians. But any idiot knows that all LaVey was ever about was human sacrifice, usually in the form of a rape and dismembering of a woman like it runs rampant in snuff films on the web. In this case two children were involved.

The Troy Police refuse to release data on the condition of the bodies and how they were murdered. Rumor has it they were tied up and cut up, a common practice of the LaVey for the Freemason. But the cops will always do their best to give the upper-class what they want so no one gets caught in the atonement for Lucifer, including them.

The atonement of a murder gives the Freemason his political power. Any idiot knows that. The police usually know most of the poor in the neighborhood, whether criminals or not, but they do not know much about the middle class except when they socialize with them. Cops may even try to make poor people criminals by pressuring them under conditions of survival using classical conditioning. It is highly probable that there was one or more cops on the Troy Police force who knew Shante, the oldest victim of the homicides. She was a struggling working class mother, who vied to feed her children. Corrupt Troy cops would know just how to use that erotic. She had a job as a cleaner, at least that’s how I knew her, and there is probably a cop on the force who knows that too. We will call his name Mark after the name Jim Guccione gave to the cop who arrested me on a false 9.45 pickup order issued by Dr. Dilullo of Samaritan Hospital. Cops allegedly try to hide what they know and who they know so they can abuse the poor, but news travels fast among the closely knit ghetto. But what cops do not know is how many people in the neighborhood legally own a firearm or can get the help of someone who does. Also, cops do not always know how much the poor understand slave psychology. Local cops are not the only ones who have guns. The FBI spends a good amount of time convicting local cops of bribery, abuse and brutality, and why should it be different in Troy?

It is unlikely we will ever find the real murderers, if even the theory proved to be true, unless the two suspects found are in fact guilty. We will be led to believe whatever the news wants to tell us to keep selling their newspaper. But they are not the only ones who have a newspaper. This one is free and worldwide, and we say all the things no one else has the courage or intelligence to say, preacher or not.

Did the Bloodline Survive the Flood?
Perhaps Genesis Didn’t Reveal It

Guccione Legend, as it has been examined in the Guccie Times, has made many statements that may oppose the Bible or science the way mankind understands them. Perhaps one of these issues is the matter of a bloodline that came from Cain that continued and perfected itself over the course of human history. If this is true, how do we account for the flood in Genesis 6-7 when all of man was destroyed except Noah and his family?

The history of the bloodline reveals that these men were super intelligent and had forms of engineering and technology thousands of years before they were introduced to the common society (such as in the last 100 years). It may very well be that these technologies were used along with medical knowledge (such as DNA genetics) to build a society exactly the way Lucifer wanted it to culminate in the Last Days. At that time, he could create a master-slave society to be guided by and Antichrist, thus ruling the world and taking it away from Jehovah.

The Bible gives an account of the Tower of Babel (to right) in Genesis 11:1-9, and we know that civilization had the technology to build a primitive skyscraper. Cain’s bloodline had enough intelligence to believe God when Noah predicted the flood, even though Lucifer would not let man believe it. He had succeeded in making the whole world full of violence. Knowing the flood was coming, both good and bad bloodlines, they both built a tower that would rise above the waterline using Apollyon’s engineering. With a human bounty, Lucifer then perhaps convinced God not to put it in the Bible.

The Low Beat Grove In Albany, NY
Valentine’s Allegedly Rises Again

Late last year The Guccie Times published an article about Boagies in Albany, NY as a successor to the “LaVey” bar Valentine’s that closed down. It turned out the Boagies had been also closed down for about 2 years, But Valentine’s opened up under a new name, blatantly The Low Beat located on 335 Central Ave in Albany. This is a more public location than where it was before on New Scotland Ave.

Although I have yet to go to the bar, judging from when I used to go to Valentine’s, and the placards outside the bar, and the facade, it is obviously a continuance of what Valentines was allegedly doing to serve the punk rocker and heavy metal head alike.

These kinds of clubs frequent our cities as a place for friendship among what some people call “the underclass”. This is the very society of people whereby Mr. Guccione claims that “Bad Bob” selects his property, as if he owns the world. But it has been made clear to the American people that Mr. Guccione will not tolerate this kind of savagery forever.

In Albany, this bar, the Low Beat may very well be a micro-cosm of the macro-cosim of NYC where you will find the “real” underclass. Either way, Mr. Guccione plans to send his public official to these pubs.

These kinds of bars may be the site of what the Guccie Times has come to call the Hudson Duster Bloodsport. Although Valentine’s may never have had violent incidences, the psychology is certainly still there. Mr. Guccione said, “The Low Beat may be come a type of my public official’s sport.” But then it could all just be the racketeering of the Mob, and the Low Beat is not guilty of any wrong-doing.
