2/3/19 TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH INFORMATIONAL MEETING REGARDING ROOFING PROJECT

Pastor opened the meeting with prayer.
24 members+ Pastor present.

Austin Bultman (Contractor) present to answer questions regarding roof project. Brochure was handed out to give examples of color and material of shingle. Questions of color, warranty and time-frame were answered. Austin would like to get materials ordered as soon as possible and start project while the ground is still frozen. Roof will be a granulated steel with epoxy as voted on at the Voter's Meeting of November 11, 2018. Agreement with today's members to go with Walnut color and permission to have Austin order materials.

We closed with the Lord's Prayer. Meeting adjourned.
Respectfully submitted,
Deb Kratochvil

Hymn of the Month

LSB 594 "God's Own Child I Gladly Say It" This hymn speaks of what baptism is and gives, and the power of baptism has for this life, in death, and for the life to come. It was written by German Lutheran pastor Erdmann Neumeister who lived in the 1700s in Hamburg. He also wrote the words to 5 of J.S. Bach's cantatas. The tune is Swiss written by a Reformed pastor from the same time period. It is bouncy almost like a dance. This is one of Pastor Lowe's favorite hymns- just FYI.

Jr. Youth Group March 24

We will leave at 2:00 and return after eating out. Jr Youth will travel to Sioux Falls to rollerskate. Parents are invited to come; drivers needed. Money will be needed for food.

Thank You!

Vikki Sullivan (sister of Cassie Lachmann) finished her chemo treatments and is doing fine. She would like to thank the congregation for their thoughts and prayers during this time.

Daylight Savings begins Sunday, March 10th.

From Pastor's Desk...How are you doing at following Jesus?

The season of Lent is here. For forty days and nights (minus Sundays) we follow Jesus in the wilderness of this world to the Cross, burial, and resurrection. The life of a Christian is a life of following Jesus. It is more than just paying lip-service to Jesus or a casual association that comes and goes depending on how you feel at the moment. It is a total life immersion. It's such a dedicated following that through being and listening you begin to sound and act like Jesus. Baptism conforms our life to Christ's- discipleship comes from Him to us (Gal. 3:27).

A life conformed to Christ must be crucified; we must die (Mark 8:34). We die to ourselves, our desires, our ideas of what it means to love God and live life. This kind of denial means sacrifice. We don't like to make sacrifices for anything or anymore. This is strange because we live in the most abundant time in the history of the world where giving things up should be easy. Those who have least in the U.S. still have more than most of the world. Being asked to sacrifice often reveals our true selves and the gods we worship. Following Jesus comes with a cross to bear.

Sacrifices, self-denial, brings suffering- and that's the last thing we want. Life brings enough suffering, why would we want more. The suffering naturally comes living in a broken world, but suffering also comes a gift from God (Romans 5:3-5). Being needy, struggling, hurting hardly seems like a gift. But God often uses it to accomplish great good. After-all, it is through His suffering, bloodshed, and death on the Cross that accomplished our salvation. This is the greatest good gift ever.

During the season of Lent, Christians historically give things up to remember Christ's sacrifice and to better understand temptation and denial. They also take things up which brings good to themselves and others- like a new habit or act of service or special devotions. You are free to do either or something else. But hear the Word of the Lord, know that Jesus has accomplished everything so that you may follow Him in this life into the life to come. Many gifts accompany the hard-road of discipleship. Remember St. Paul's words.

^{ESV} Philippians 3:7 But whatever gain I had, I counted as loss for the sake of Christ. ⁸ Indeed, I count everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things and count them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ.

Building Relationships

Relationships need to be built; they don't just happen. Even in families where blood relationships exist, emotional relationships must be built. How do we go about doing that? What are the criteria? Let's look to the master of relationships: our Lord Jesus.

Jesus, the incarnate Christ, lived in a relationship with His earthly family. In the Gospel of Luke, we are told that, when His parents became separated from their son on the return from Jerusalem where they had attended the Feast of the Passover, they were distraught. When they were reunited, Mary asked, "Son, why have You treated us so?" He gave His well-known reply: "Did you not know that I must be in my Father's house?" Then, we're told, "He went down with them and came to Nazareth and was submissive to them...And Jesus increased in wisdom and in stature and in favor with God and man" (Luke 2:48-52). The Son of God, the Savior of the World, lived in obedient relationship with the earthly parents His Heavenly Father gave Him.

It is in the early days of His ministry that Jesus starts gathering to Himself His disciples, the Twelve who would sleep at His side, share their food with Him, endure the variances in the weather (as they were often outdoors), hear and try to understand His words, and seek to emulate Him, their Rabbi and Master. From Jesus we learn about being stewards of relationships. The criteria include quality time together, the opening of hearts to one another, trust and forgiveness, and interdependence.

Just as He called His disciples into relationship with Himself, so He initiates that closeness with us. He calls us with His Gospel words, "Come to Me...and I will give you rest" (Matthew 11:28). He invites us, "Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men" (Matthew 4:19). He abides with us (John 15:4); He shares His Heavenly food with us (Matthew 26:26-28); He speaks to us by His Word, Jesus Himself, and through His called servants (Hebrews 1:1-2); He presents us to His Father as holy in His sight (Colossians 1:22).

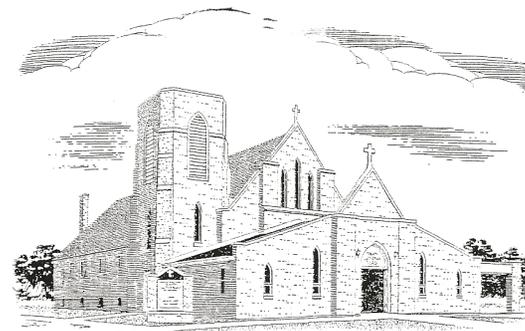

Secure, then, in our relationship with Jesus, we come to understand both our identity and purpose as His stewards. Equipped by His Word and empowered by His transforming love, our stewardship is no longer limited to specific acts occurring here and there but encompasses our entire lives. With a growing awareness of Christ's redeeming love, we are motivated to express our faith by the way we live
