

Join us for an evening with author Birgitta Gottlieb McGalliard

April 30, 2019

6:00-8:00 p.m.

Tiffany's at the Boardroom

135 W. Main St.

Albemarle

Austrian-born McGalliard, a retired foreign language teacher, currently lives in Boone, NC. Her father, an Austrian diplomat, was captured by the Soviets in 1944. McGalliard has written two books about her family's experiences before, during, and after WWII.

Mrs. McGalliard will provide a brief presentation starting at 6:15. Afterwards, there will be time for questions, meet and greet, and book signing. There will be a limited number of books available that night, but they are also available on Amazon.

Lives Divided

Years Stolen by the Russian GULAG

Tiffany's at the Boardroom will have several menu options available for purchase that night, as well. Please come enjoy the festivities.
