

Sue Kerr: I studied at Art Center College of Design, graduated from Salem State University with a major in 3D design.

I've always needed to make things - whatever the medium. The first time I touched clay, I knew it was for me, it just felt right. With clay, there is always something new to learn. My inspiration to make animals started with my dog, who is my constant companion. I enjoy each step from conception to completion. I strive for simple, lighthearted and whimsical. If the viewer sees

