Back by popular demand with updated games!

You'll play popular games and then adapt them to cover the content in your classroom during this workshop. Communication, collaboration, critical thinking and creativity will be a focus as well as the Standards of Mathematical Practice. Student engagement and motivation is the result when you include a variety of ways for students to learn. Bring your device and any manuals, vocabulary lists or assessments that you need to make content more interactive and hands-on with your students. Time to bring the fun back to learning!
