

Wyoming State Muzzleloader Association's News

March, 2020

We welcomed a new year and a new decade. 2020 has arrived. I am hoping that all of you will have a great year !

This year 's convention has come and gone. A lot of familiar faces were at convention this year, and we even saw some faces we haven't seen in awhile. There were seminars, a dinner, auction, and dance. Hope everyone had a great time.

This year at the general meeting, I asked to step down off of the state board. I would like to take a year off. Gary Gillen will be taking over the newsletter. I have offered to help him in every way possible to make the transition a smooth one. As of right now, we are leaving the newsletter email the same, and I will be helping Gary put the newsletter together.

So I hope that you will help me in welcoming Gary Gillen to the newsletter.

Until next time, Happy Shooting.

Sandy Ladwig

President's Letter:

Greetings:

Hope everyone enjoyed the convention this year. With the shooting season getting underway, it is time to get equipment ready and time planned out for upcoming shoots which will be posted in the state newsletter.

Thanks Gary Gillen for taking on the newsletter. A big thank you to the board members and all the other dedicated people that work tirelessly to make the convention and state shoots so wonderful. When you see them, please thank them for all their hard work and commitment to our organization.

Thanks to all the state members for your support. —Frank Elzay

From the Editor:

Just a brief note to introduce myself. My first effort at putting together the quarterly newsletter went well thanks to help from Sandy and several other board members. I'm a ten-year member of the Sierra Madre Muzzle Loading Rifle Club in Saratoga. I am retired and so have time to attend many of the great shoots hosted by WSML members clubs throughout the state.

Last August I was appointed WSMLA Historian taking over for Mr. Lyle Bader who has been doing a great job for the past several years. Lyle gave me WSML newsletters dating from 1987 to 2011. I plan to use some of the articles from early newsletters in "Blasts from the Past" section starting this issue.

I will be happy to include info from any WSML local member clubs about shoot results, upcoming events etc. So please send me any items you think will be of interest to the WSMS membership. Gary Gillen

BLAST FROM THE PAST: MARCH/APRIL ISSUE 1988

Looking for a Shoot by Travis Bennett

Back in the sixties the state of the muzzle loading in Wyoming was quite a bit different than it is now. There were a few small clubs, meeting and shooting on an irregular basis, and a few individuals around the state that shot by themselves or whenever they could get a few shooters together. There was little or no communication between the muzzle loaders scattered around the state and those interested in the sport were hungry for competition.

Along about 1968 I rejoined the NMLRA, after dropping out for several years, and was excited to notice in Muzzle Blasts that Wyoming Muzzle Loading was enjoying a real surge in popularity. On one of the back pages, in the "Shoot Dates" column, I found 8 or 9 clubs listed, all having a regular shoot schedule. Well this was fine news indeed! No longer was I going to feel isolated and alone in my interests. Here was my chance to join other black powder enthusiasts and, with their expert help and advice, improve my own meager knowledge of muzzle loading.

I noticed that one club, "Willow Stage M.L.R.A." of Rawlins had a shoot coming up on the 4th of July, which was only a few weeks away. I spoke to my wife about attending and she agreed that I should and it'd get me out of her hair for a while. It was settled, I would go to my first real shoot. Hot Damn!!

I called the guy listed in Muzzle Blasts for information but whoever answered the phone was really dumb. He didn't know anything at all about any shoot or anything, but could tell me that "Willow Stage" was a couple miles north of Rawlins and I was welcome to come over for the 4th of July.

Well, time dragged on slowly and anticipation built as the July holiday drew closer. I cleaned and re-cleaned my old Tingle Hawken, checked and re-checked all the stuff in my shooting bag and went over everything that could possibly embarrass me if I screwed up, and finally the big day came I loaded all my plunder in the car, kissed the wife and little ones bye and headed for my first formal competition.

It's 140 miles to Rawlins from Riverton and it seemed to take forever to arrive at "Willow Stage" which was on the highway and right where the guy on the phone said it would be. I piled out of my car and headed inside the log building to find out information about the shoot. I did notice an absence of any evidence of a shoot taking place, no targets neatly lined up in the distance, no firing line, no place to register, nothing. Not at all like the pictures in Muzzle Blasts. I did notice the neon signs in the windows of the "clubhouse". COORS and BUDWEISER and MILLER HIGH LIFE blinked at me but nothing about shooting. Well, Willow Stage turned out to be a bar, nothing more, nothing less. If there were any muzzle loaders in the crowd besides me, they didn't come forward and get acquainted, even after I had a heated discussion with the bartender about false advertising, mileage from Riverton, etc. Then it was back in the car and headed for home disillusioned and disgusted.

Only later did I find out that Wyoming had these strange liquor laws that allowed Nationally Chartered private clubs extra privileges like staying open all night and opening on Sundays, which regular bars couldn't do back then. It wasn't until the late 1970's or early 80's that the NMLRA finally pulled the last of this Drinking Club charters. A. J. White and Bill Jennings, acting as Wyo. Field Reps. For the NMLRA were involved in pulling some of these charters and their files make interesting reading.

As time went on and muzzle loading became more popular, legitimate clubs took the place of the phonies and we've reached the point that no one need shoot alone, if he desires competition or company.

By Travis Bennett

This story is particularly interesting to the members of the Sierra Madre club because we started out at The Brass Rail bar north of Saratoga. A.J White did indeed pay us a visit in the late 70's or early 80's and helped us form a real mountain man club. A. J. said everyone was eager to learn what was required and he sold us hawks and other items to get the club started. He recalled selling over 20 high quality hawks to customers who had no idea what one was or how it was used. We've come a long way! -editor
