A Note from Rick: Markets were solid throughout the week at TLA. The Hay market was very active and prices were steady. The calf market was unchanged, while slaughter prices were slightly lower. We had an excellent group of springers to offer on Thursday for our March Special Springer Auction. Prices were stronger and that didn't come as a surprise with recent gains in slaughter cow prices. Not sure how markets will react to the current turmoil going on in the world right now. One would have to think that it will put a major strain on everything for the short term. The key word in that thought to me is the short term. Is that days, weeks or months? Nevertheless, this is what we're faced with and all we can do is to try and stay calm and put our faith and trust in God on these matters.
