We will have three groups who car pool to homes of our homebound members. Please sign up on the sheet in the downstairs Narthex of the church.

Annual Reports Due

Because we want to have a complete picture of what is happening at Huff's Church each year, we ask each committee team or group to submit a report annually of what they have done in the previous year. 2018 reports are due in the church secretary's mailbox by January 20. Treasurer's reports are an exception; they will be due in the office by early February 2019.

Ladies Aid Society

The next meeting of the Ladies Aid Society will be on Wednesday, December 6, at 7:00 p.m. in the Chapel. All ladies are invited to attend. Please continue to save your Redner's & Radcliffe's receipts. There is a basket for these on the Food Bank cabinet near the men's room.

Supporting Our Congregation

Just like household expenses rise yearly, our congregation's expenses do this as well. As you prepare your household budget for 2019, please consider how you might help our congregation. We give thanks for all you already are doing to spread the good news of Jesus Christ. (We are presently experiencing a budget shortfall in 2018)

We also give thanks for all the volunteer hours you have shared with Huff's Church in 2018, and hope you might consider things you might do in 2019—snow shoveling, grounds clean up, light maintenance, teaching Sunday School children, folding and stapling bulletins, assisting with counting the offering, assisting to plan and supervise youth events, singing in the choir, playing in the bell choir, offering solo music (instrumental or vocal), assisting the Renaissance Team to plan and host invitational events, being a greeter, etc. Please speak with Pastor Kropa to volunteer.

PSEC Conference News

At the fall meeting of the Pennsylvania Southeast Conference, the decision was made not to proceed with the merger of the Pennsylvania Southeast Conference and Penn Northeast Conference, at this time. The proposal to unite the conferences, into one Eastern Pennsylvania Conference, will continue to be refined and might be presented again, in a more thorough form, in the future. Rachel Welch, Duane Bortz and Pastor Kropa represented our congregation at this meeting.

Blankets for Allentown Rescue Mission

On November 11 about thirty people gathered after worship to have a simple lunch and to tie fleece together to create blankets. Nineteen blankets were finished, which will be donated to the Allentown Rescue Mission. Thank you to everyone who helped.

We received a $250 Thrivent Action Team grant to purchase supplies for this project, as well as 25 tee shirts from Thrivent to give to participants. Pastor Kropa was the Thrivent sponsor for the grant money.

Lessons from Pennsylvania Southeast Conference churches

At the beginning of my tenure as Conference Minister, I set upon the task of preaching in every one of our (now) 161 congregations. I have returned several times to some for anniversaries and ordinations. I hunger to go back to others but now have less than twenty churches to visit. This has been one of the best experiences of my work. I have encountered amazing places of vitality including just last Sunday at St John's, Birdsboro for a 225th Anniversary celebration of a small church with a mighty spirit. I have witnessed growing congregation connections with communities, like at the Evening Worship Service at St. Peters in Tremont two weeks ago where members of the Schuylkill Association gathered with flood-ravaged neighbors to give thanks for deliverance and the generosity of Conference neighbors near and far. I witnessed the members of St. Peter's Tohickon offer gracious hospitality to a Muslim neighbor who spoke in celebration of that church's long and faithful history.

I have learned a few things and confirmed my sense of others. First, a handful of people on fire with the transformative power and presence of the resurrected spirit of Jesus Christ can change the world — and do. Second, it really is possible to welcome all people when the sole agenda is the working of Jesus Christ as that happens differently in the life of each person. Third, where vitality is happening there is a vitalized, faith-filled visionary leader training and inspiring other leaders. Finally, I am fond of the question, "If your church burned down on Friday would you all show up on Sunday to worship in the ashes?" I know the answer almost as soon as I walk in the front church door. There is an unmistakable atmosphere of connection among people who love being together AND who can't wait to include new people in that togetherness; born not from a need to save a church or find a committee or contribute to a budget but from a desire to widen the circle of friends and to share the faith.

That is happening all around our Conference and I am blessed beyond measure to witness it, celebrate it and give thanks to God for it. And for you.

Pastor Bill

Rev. William P. Worley
Conference Minister

Pastor's Article

Dear Friends,

Often we think of Christmas as especially important to children, and we may recall how important Christmas was in our own lives. I recently watched the movie “Won’t You Be My Neighbor” which talked about Pastor Fred Rodgers (yes, he was ordained to TV ministry by the Presbyterian Church) and his ideas about what children need to hear.

Fred suggests that often adults make the mistake of trying to shield children from things that might be difficult or frightening. Fred decided that he would not be afraid of such topics, such as the assassination of Robert Kennedy, but talked about it on a child’s level, reassuring them that bad things might happen. “When something bad happens,” advised Fred, “Look for the helpers.”

How might we talk about the Christmas story to children? Tell the story. It’s OK to talk about how the people of Jesus’ day were longing for a special word from God, because their lives were not very happy. What in our lives do we hope will change, as we think about the birth of Jesus? What did change for people after Jesus was born? This might be a difficult answer, because sometimes it looks like very little has changed. How can we be honest about wishing for a perfect world, and learning to do our part to make an imperfect world a kinder, gentler, more loving place?

Advent is a special time that prepares us for the Christmas miracle. Why do we have to wait? Because the people of God had to wait for Jesus, and there are many things in life that require waiting. Waiting can build excitement. Waiting can teach us to delay gratification. Waiting is a normal part of existence we need to learn how to tolerate.

What do we do with the ending of the story, when Joseph learns in a dream that King Herod will try to kill baby Jesus, and takes the family to Egypt to escape? Many people don’t bother telling this part of the story, yet it does teach us that even God’s son had his life made difficult by an evil ruler. Evil attacks good, but God’s assurance is that good eventually wins. Jesus is saved, and his family does return to Nazareth where he finishes growing up. We can be thankful for those who reached out to help the struggling family, and that there was a place where they could go for safety. It makes Jesus real, not just a story, but a real boy whose parents had real struggles. The good news is they were helped.

As Advent moves closer to Christmas, it provides a time when we can reflect on our preparedness for Christ to return, not as a baby, but as the righteous judge. Jesus promises to return to make everything work as God intends it to work. We look forward to his coming, and do not fear it, because we know he loves us as his very own. Are we taking the time to ponder these holy mysteries, and letting children in our midst know that it’s OK to take time out, to reflect, read our Bible, say a prayer?

Children can be helped to understand silence by talking about silence with them. You might try setting a timer, for perhaps 3-5 minutes, for children to practice keeping silent until the timer rings. You might ask them what they thought about, or prayed about, and how it felt to be absolutely still to think about Jesus.

I hope you realize that, even though we talked about children, we adults can also profit by taking time to ponder, reflect, pray, read the Bible, and sense the comforting presence of God, who promises to turn even evil into good (Heidelberg Catechism, question 26).

I wish you a very blessed and wonder-filled Christmas.

In Christian hope, Pastor Jane Kropa
