

Sheriff J. Al Cannon, Jr.

October 24, 2017

Deputy Marshal Russel Coleman
United States Marshals Service

COMMENDATION

Dear Deputy Coleman:

On August 7th, a 26-year-old male suspect stabbed his 8-year-old nephew and 2-year-old niece to death in North Charleston. The suspect fled on foot from the scene. A manhunt for the suspect ensued with multiple agencies assisting.

You were in the area assisting in the search for the suspect, when you observed Deputy Rissanen chasing the murder suspect on Antler Drive. You exited your vehicle and joined the foot pursuit. You and Deputy Rissanen caught up the suspect and worked together to take him into custody despite a struggle. Your dedication to duty and to the citizens of this community lead to the apprehension of a dangerous murder. You are a credit to, not just the US Marshal Service, but law enforcement as a whole.

Because of your professionalism and dedication to the mission of the Charleston County Sheriff's Office, I am pleased to present you with a Special Recognition Award for the 3rd Quarter of 2017.

Yours truly,

That proves you are not a pathological liar—which is what TSA will argue. If you were, you would've never mentioned Zermeno going into the bathroom before you in your affidavit.

***** AFFIDAVIT — RUSSELL COLEMAN *****

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, I declare under the laws of the United States of America under penalty of perjury that the foregoing statements are true and correct.

Since 2011, I have been employed as a U.S. Department of Justice (USDOJ) Deputy U.S. Marshal assigned to U.S. Marshal's Service's District of South Carolina, Charleston Division. I am in good standing with the USDOJ.

My affidavit is relevant to this case due to the fact Kevin Pitman was recently promoted into management as an Assistant Supervisory Air Marshal in Charge (K Band — ASAC) assigned to the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Transportation Security Administration (TSA) Federal Air Marshal Service's (FAMS) Seattle Field Office.

I understand that Mr. Pitman's resume is an exhibit in Washington Field Office (WFO) Federal Air Marshal (I Band — FAM) Robert J. MacLean's pending U.S. Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB) Western Regional Office case, Docket No. SF-0752-06-0611-C-1. Mr. MacLean's case was remanded to the MSPB by the U.S. Supreme Court after its January 21, 2015 decision in Department of Homeland Security v. Robert J. MacLean, Case No. 13-894.

Using Mr. Pitman and his career progression as a comparator, FAM MacLean asserts that TSA must retroactively promote him to K Band given the fact he had a spotless record and was rated as being an "exemplary" FAM by the TSA's deciding official, then-Los Angeles Supervisory Air Marshal in Charge, Frank Donzani. FAM MacLean asserts that he was one of the TSA's highest performing FAMs until he was illegally fired on April 11, 2006 for making disclosures protected by the Whistleblower Protection Act.

On January 10, 2009—11 days before Barack Obama's Inauguration to be President of the United States—I was employed as a WFO FAM and in good status. On this date, I was assigned to the TSA-FAMS WFO located in Chantilly, Virginia. My mission for this day was to be on "RECOVERY" status at Reagan National Airport (DCA) in Arlington, Virginia. RECOVERY status is when a FAM has no assigned flights, but must be immediately available to quickly deploy and protect a flight leaving DCA. I had my service firearm and handcuffs with me.

While walking in the very long hallway that connects DCA Terminal A with Terminals B and C, I heard a woman very loudly screaming in agony. Her screams came from a women's bathroom. Just outside of the entrance to the bathroom I noticed a small crowd of people, some in Transportation Security Officer uniforms and some not. I saw a male and female TSA Officer enter the bathroom as I was approaching the scene. The female TSA Officer ran into me as she was exiting the bathroom, asking her what was going on in there, she stated a woman was being assaulted I identified myself to the TSA officers as Police Air Marshal. Without hesitation, I ran into the bathroom, yelling police, police. A male in plain clothes later entered the bathroom behind me "Ok, lets do this." I was behind the male TSA Officer, who saw the subject and began yelling "what are you doing". I kept yelling police, police. As I rounded corner I saw a bloody woman being violently raped by a man on top of her. Her clothes were partially removed, and her face was swollen and bleeding.

I later learned the person who had entered behind me that was Mr. Pitman, the DCA-Duty Supervisory Federal Air Marshal (J Band — SFAM). I initially believed Mr. Pitman was a civilian, before detaining Vincent Montgomery Griffin. I stopped Griffin from further assaulting the woman, by ordering Griffin to the floor and handcuffing him.

I then told the male TSA officer to immediately notify the Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority (MWAA) Police Department that there is an Air Marshals in here, so that their officers do not rush in and hurt me, and vice versa. To my surprise, Mr. Pitman then replied to me, “Let them know there are two Air Marshals in here.”

I called the Transportation Security Operations Center (TSOC) in Herndon, Virginia and reported the incident. I told the TSOC that “FAM Kevin Pitman” was outside of the bathroom with others before I entered. The TSOC responded that no “FAM Kevin Pitman” existed in their database. Later during the call, the TSOC asked me if Mr. Pitman was a “Supervisory FAM” and not a “FAM.” I then asked Mr. Pitman if he was “Supervisory FAM” and he replied that he was.

Mr. Pitman told me that he also heard the woman screaming, but wanted someone to go in with him because he was a man and it was a woman’s bathroom. Mr. Pitman stated he went to get the Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority (MWAA) Police to assist him, before entering the bathroom.

Like all SFAMs, Mr. Pitman was issued a service firearm and handcuffs. It's unknown to me whether or not Mr. Pitman had his handcuffs and firearm with him, but he still should entered the bathroom without hesitation to prevent any further assault on the victim.

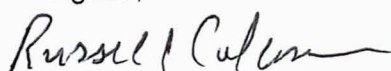

The woman was a Hispanic cleaning lady. She told me that Griffin was choking her and she could not scream until she grabbed his testicles with all of her strength, he loosened up his grab of her neck, and now able to scream. I discovered that the woman was being beaten and raped for at least five minutes after Mr. Pitman walked away to find MWAA police officers.

Mr. Pitman stated since he was the Supervisor on duty that he would have to write the report about the incident. I gave a written statement to the MWAA police officers who arrested and processed Griffin. I assumed that eventually someone high in my chain-of-command or the TSA Office of Inspection (OOI) would inquire about the incident, but was never asked about it.

The reward for my actions was a $500 that my first-line supervisor put me in for. I was also surprised about how little media the incident got given the fact the woman was badly beaten and almost murdered days before the Inauguration so close to the Capital.

After I left for the USDOJ in 2011, I was told an awards ceremony had been held by the Secretary of DHS to honor the TSA employees who saved the woman. Naturally, I was stunned to find this out.

Signed,

Kevin Pitman

*Assistant Federal Security Director for Law Enforcement
Guam and CNMI – Los Angeles Field Office*

Kevin Pitman is the Assistant Federal Security Director of Law Enforcement for Guam and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands.

Prior to joining teams TSA GUM and TSA GSN, Mr. Pitman was assigned as a Supervisory Federal Air Marshal in the Washington Field Office where he managed several programs and a squad of Federal Air Marshals.

Prior to joining the ranks at Washington Field Office, Mr. Pitman was the Assistant Supervisory Air Marshal in Charge of the Mission Operations Center (MOC) the Systems Operation Control Division (SOCD). As the ASAC of the MOC, Mr. Pitman was responsible for the development, operation, and administration of both the MOC and the FTO, including the management and supervision of both FAMS and civilian employees. The MOC's primary role is to provide support to the flying FAMS. As the ASAC of the MOC, Mr. Pitman was also responsible for the development and implementation of policy and procedure for the MOC and FTO. Mr. Pitman has also developed and implemented crisis management protocols to deal with critical incidents, law enforcement issues and other emergencies. On more than one occasion, Mr. Pitman has worked as the crisis manager for the SOCD. He has developed and implemented strategies for weather anomalies and events that affect FAMS missions; coordinated operational issues with field office SACs as well as with management of FAMS Flight Operations; and has provided domain awareness to FAMS leadership on several occasions.

After completing a four-year enlistment the United States Marine Corps, Mr. Pitman worked for Wackenhut Services, Inc., a security contractor for the Department of Energy (DOE). While working for Wackenhut, he was assigned to Savannah River Site in Aiken, South Carolina and the Y-12 National Security Complex in Oak Ridge, Tennessee. While at Savannah River Site, he was on the Special Response Team (SRT), which is similar to most SWAT teams. Mr. Pitman worked on both ground teams and helicopter-borne teams. While on the Special Response Team at Savannah River Site, he specialized in close quarter combat as well as sniper/counter-sniper duties. Upon being assigned at the National Security Complex in Oak Ridge, he joined the Special Response Team specializing solely in Close-Quarter Combat. On September 11th, 2001, Mr. Pitman was assigned as a team leader at a checkpoint on the outer perimeter of the National Security Complex to prevent unauthorized entry and egress. Shortly thereafter, he was assigned as a team leader on a Special Response Team.

Mr. Pitman is a graduate of the University of Phoenix with a Bachelor's of Science in Information Technology, is a former business owner, and former semi-pro bicycle racer.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Sukeena M. Stephens
Supervisory Federal Air Marshal
Washington Field Office

FROM: Robert J. MacLean
Federal Air Marshal

SUBJECT: CORRECTED: Innocuous video inside Twitter message; imminent and toxic charges of racism and whistleblower retaliation against me by the Agency; two files attached

Sent via email from Robert.J.Maclean@ole.tsa.dhs.gov to Sukeena.M.Stephens@ole.tsa.dhs.gov

Please replace this memorandum for the memorandum I timely submitted yesterday to quickly end potential divisiveness among me and my fellow employees. At home I was able to investigate the situation from my personal computer.

Attached are two files: a screen-shot of the unexpanded video shot of the person hiding his hands; a print out of the 17 responses to the Twitter video.

The innocuous video sent to me after hours on the March 15, 2016 DC Metro Shutdown announcement

Yesterday at 12:21 PM, Washington Field Office Supervisory Federal Air Marshal (SFAM) Sukeena M. Stephens ordered me to submit this memorandum. SFAM Stephens stated to me that Washington Field Office Assistant Supervisory Air Marshal in Charge (ASAC) Conrad Raines ordered her to order me to submit this memorandum. SFAM Stephens called me from 708-488-9053 to my Agency cellular phone.

On March 15, 2016, I sent the following text to SFAM Todd Schumacher's cellular phone (571-216-5264) at 4:46 PM Eastern:

The ENTIRE DC Metro Rail system will be shut down for 24 hours starting at midnight due to potential of fire hazards.

was abruptly reassigned to FAM Headquarters Office of Training and Development under the supervision of then-FAMS Assistant Director and future FAMS Director Robert Bray. SAC Donzanti was subsequently demoted twice and removed from supervising anymore FAMS. SAC Donzanti relationship with FAM Douglas was dispositive of my removal because he lacked credibility and the Agency used his transgressions as leverage to remove me. The March 3, 2010 email went into detail about her having an alleged inappropriate sexual relationship with a subordinate FAM during the course of her SFAM duties in the Boston Field Office, and that the relationship allegedly resulted in that FAM falsifying her Practical Pistol Course scores. SFAM Tancredi was allegedly reassigned to the Washington Field Office because of the alleged incident. I wanted her to know that I also would not judge her. She just explained over and over again she did not want anyone to believe I was not “a good person.”

I mistakenly thought SFAM Tancredi and I had a productive conversation to end any misunderstandings, so I never mentioned it again other than documenting it for my attorneys. She is now retaliating against me in response to me for forwarding the March 3, 2010 email to numerous FAMS and government oversight agencies. I forwarded that email days after I received after being removed from the Agency.

This new investigation is retaliatory in response to me exposing endless wrongdoing within the Agency

Today’s order to have me draft this memorandum is retaliatory. This retaliation is for my legally protected whistleblower disclosures made in July 2003. This retaliation is also arising from the potentially protected whistleblower disclosures I made in a June 9, 2015 public hearing before the full Senate on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs (HSGAC), and my ongoing disclosures to my chain of command associated with the Airbus inward-opening flight deck doors (IOFDD) and Installed Physical Secondary Barriers (IPSB) missing and existing units being removed from all U.S. commercial aircraft. Without reversing the hinges on IOFDDs and deployment of very inexpensive yet 100% effective IPSBs, the flight deck is extremely vulnerable to a lone-wolf, suicidal bad-actor who wishes to dive into the flight deck when pilots open the flight deck door to use the lavatory, get food/drink, or crew-rest. The Agency is adverse to me relentlessly pressing hard for these flight deck protection improvements so that more FAMS can be deployed in ground based assignments to prevent attacks such as the two Los Angeles International Airport shootings, and the recent terrorist attacks of the Brussels, Belgium airport – all resulting from actors attacking areas that are outside of the secure sterile and terminal boarding wait areas.

The January 9, 2009 Assistant Supervisory Air Marshal in Charge Kevin Pitman incident

This ongoing retaliation is also a result of the inquiries I have been making about recently promoted to K Band, FAMS Seattle Field Office ASAC Kevin Pitman. ASAC Pitman is a former Washington Field Office FAM and SFAM. Approximately two dozen Washington Field Office FAMs, retired FAMS Headquarters Public Information Officer/ASAC Conan Bruce, and former SFAM Paul Harvey all stated ASAC Pitman is a “bona fide coward” who allegedly allowed a woman to be violently raped in a Reagan National Airport bathroom in the corridor between the old Terminal A and new Terminal B. The incident happened on January 9, 2009, about two weeks before President Barack Obama’s first inauguration. The allegations are: then-SFAM Pitman heard a woman screaming in the bathroom, posted outside of the bathroom and called 9-1-1 reporting the ongoing incident without identifying himself as an SFAM, minutes later a FAM ran over and into the bathroom without hesitation, SFAM Pitman followed the FAM into the bathroom to assist the heroic FAM, both detained the rapist, and saved the woman from further assault.

The employees tell me everyone suspected ASAC Pitman did not have his service weapon with him, but no one searched him to verify or he quickly retrieved it after the incident. I routinely see SFAMs and ASACs not wearing their service weapons in or outside of the Washington Field Office and The Freedom Center. Retired ASAC Conan wrote to me in an electronic message ASAC Pitman used the excuse you should not go into a bathroom of a screaming woman without back-up. If true, this is a frightening position coming from a person who was expected stop a suicidal actor from attacking a flight deck with pilots, killing passengers, or destroying an aircraft with little to no back-up.

Retired ASAC Conan warned me in his typed messages that FAMS management is “the mafia.”
