MASS READING RELFECTION

July 21, 2019

1st Reading Gn 18:1-10a [Hospitality]

In this tradition, Abraham is introduced to us as an example of hospitality. He follows the rule of hospitality common to his time and culture. The point is that he was gracious. We should see Abraham’s hospitality as related to his faith, which is rewarded by God. Sarah, his wife, will have a son. “He who does justice will live in the presence of Lord” (Responsorial Psalm).

2nd Reading Col 1:24-28 [The Mystery of Christ]

We should receive Christ with a mature Faith. Paul had preached this mystery to the Colossians. But a mystery is something we should penetrate into ever more by faithful meditation. Just as we grow in understanding a loved one by daily conversation, so should we grow in understanding our Lord by meditatively listening to his words in Scripture and meeting him with an open mind in our fellow humans/guests (First Reading and Gospel).

OUR LADY OF GUADALUPE PARISH

The Sixteenth Sunday of Ordinary Time

“Mary has chosen the better part and it will not be taken from her”.

THEME: HOSPITALITY

The concept of hospitality has various connotations over the centuries. In the 6th century Saint Benedict wrote in his rule that his monks should receive the stranger as Christ himself. The abbeys were havens for the lonesome traveler. For centuries, men and women have dedicated their lives as religious Brothers and Sisters to welcoming the stranger and the suffering in their hospitals, which were centers of charity, real “guest houses.” Now it is different. Though there are still a few sporadic “hospices” run by Sisters, and Christian denominations still operate hospitals that bear their names, as a rule the stranger checks in at a motel and the sick person is taken care of in the community hospital, both paying for the service they receive. However, hospitality is still a Christians form of charity. Think of the family. How do we receive our guests? A visit of friends can still be an enriching experience for both the guests and the host and hostess, provided that there is mutual openness, real hospitality. Many Christians make their living by welcoming strangers and the sick: receptionists, waitresses, physicians, nurses. In doing so they can practice service with a smile. That smile could make their service Christian! Think of the hospitality of your congregation towards strangers regardless of race, color, or creed. Many parishes have a committee on hospitality, and hospitality should be practiced at parish social which give us that feeling of belonging which we all need to keep on living the Christian life. The First Reading and Gospel deal with hospitality, and the stranger/guest was indeed God/Christ himself!
