SW 2018 Update #3 (8/6/18):

Dragging continues on Course #1 & #2 and is looking really good. Course #3 & #4 are race ready and the pit layout will continue tomorrow. The surveyors were on the salt today and all surveying is complete. It was a lot less smoky today so we have some pics for you.

We still believe it is the nicest salt we have seen in a while! Stay tuned for more updates & pictures tomorrow!

SW 2018 Update #1 (8/4/18):

After our trip to SLC to pick up the trucks, we went to the Salt for a quick look at the conditions.

Courses 3 & 4 are race ready! Courses 1 & 2 have some Salt growth & pressure ridges are starting to form. Tomorrow we will lay out center lines & dragging will start Monday morning. Overall, the Salt surface is firm & smooth. Should be excellent courses when done.

First picture is from the starting line on Course 1 & the second is from the 2 mile. Stay tuned for more updates & pictures tomorrow!
